EVERYTHING READY FOR GREAT 'CADE STARTING FRIDAY

Long Caravan, Bound for Savannah via McDonough Jackson Macon, Will Leave Here at 8 O'Clock Friday Morning

TOWNS ON ROUTE PLAN PROGRAMS

Lavish Entertainment Awaits Visitors to Historic Savannah; Final Instructions Are Issued.

Every detail is complete for the big motorcade which will start from Atlanta at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and roll through Georgia's rich historic areas, by way of McDonough, Jackson, Macon, Dublin, Swainsboro and Statesboro, to Savannah, reaching the port city early tomorrow night.

Officially dedicating the just completed all-weather short route between the state's two principal cities, the motorcade will be one of the largest and most impressive events of its kind ever staged in Georgia. Last night some 200 cars were registered for places in the line and the director announced that a few vacancies can yet be arranged today for last-minute applicants.

Numbers, which are to be affixed to windshield and rear window of each car, official motorcade stickers, schedule and full instructions have been mailed to every registrant for the motorcade.

Equipment Not Essential.

The director stated last night, however, that in the event that anyone who has applied does not receive this equipment by tonight, he is not to let that keep him out of the motorcade. While all were mailed in ample time, it is always possible there may be individual cases of delay in the mails.

The official advance car from the Constitution will be at Washington and Hunter street, official starting point for the "cade," he is now ahead of assembly time tomorrow morning with duplicate numbers and stickers and other information for anyone who has not received them through the mail.

The assembly hour is 7:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The advance car will be there at 7 o'clock and the motorcade will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

The cars should be decorated with American flags and other features as

COUNTY IMPERILS SEWER PROGRAM

Fulton Failure To Contribute Full Share May Cause Curtailment.

Curtailment of the $6,000,000 sewer modernization program because of the lack of $130,000 from Fulton county impended last night following an informal conference during the afternoon of working out details of the program between Ed L. Almond, chairman of the public works committee of the Fulton county commission, and city engineers and council members.

Alderman Frank H. Reynolds, chairman of council's sewer committee, called a special meeting of that body for 2 o'clock Friday afternoon with a view of working out details of the county's contribution and avoiding any marked changes in the sewer program.

Fulton county commissioners in special session yesterday agreed to furnish all stone, sand, hauling and at least two concrete mixers for the sewer program, but this total was estimated at $240,000, short of the $250,000 needed for the program.

William A. Hansell, assistant chief of construction in charge of sewers, first reports were the county contribution would aggregate $350,000, but a check showed it falls $110,000 short of that figure.

Previously the city had asked Fulton county for $250,000 for all purposes in prosecution of the sewer development. Later and more finished plans and specifications, however, reduced the figure to $370,000.

Curtailment Predicted.

Hansell and other city leaders last night predicted the program must be curtailed if the county fails to provide the $130,000 necessary to "do the whole job."

Recording Office To Warn Violators Urged by Atlanta Motorist.

"It has been a hardship on me to write this letter," says W. A. Niall, in a communication received yesterday, "and I would not have done so had I not had four little grandsons from nine years on down and I fear for their lives."

Mr. Niall described a short automobile journey he took, just a few blocks long, last Sunday and told of the serious violations of traffic laws and the rudimentary rules of safe driving he witnessed on that drive.

"If I had not been extra vigilant," he says, "I had a good chance to have three serious smash-ups inside of about 10 minutes."

He then suggests to the Safety Council of the Constitution, in connection with its Safe Driving campaign, the institution of a recording office under control of the police, where all complaints of traffic violations, with the license number of the car at fault, could be sent by any one who observed them.

Notification Suggested.

At first, he suggests, that a card of notification and warning be sent such violators but, after repeated complaints, the faulty driver should be called to court and given serious

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Nov. 13. In the brave days before '28 the future of an ambitious young graduate was assured. He sold bonds. Statistics show there was a salesman for every bond. Shortly thereafter, any fellow who owned a bond was his own salesman.

I still have very few beautiful ones which I'd like to swap for a pair of moccasins, cuff buttons, or a ukulele. A collection of postage stamps or what have you?

Then followed the dreary years when the youth with a diploma had to make a collection of stamps or what have you?

It's all right. He can step out of college with a collection of stamps or what have you?

I am ashamed—trying to be funny over a most grim tragedy. It doesn't matter about our generation, the mad architects of this disaster. We're too numbed by blows, some of us, to start over; too old, some of us, to try; too stupid to admit that, by futile war, by speculation, by crazed extravagance, we laid this burden upon our children and our children's children.

We have saved in folly; they must reap the bitter grain.

VOTE TO BE ASKED ON MERGER MOVE FOR CITY, COUNTY

Group To Urge Council To Present Program to Executive Committee for March Balloting.

City council Monday will be asked to importune the Fulton county democratic executive committee to submit a seven-point program of consolidation of various departments of the city and county governments to voters in the March, 1936, primary.

The request will be presented by a special committee from the consolidation commission, named by Mayor Key at city council's initiation, to consider the move. Members are Councilmen Howard C. McCutcheon and Alvin L. Richards, and Hugh C. Couch, prominent Atlantian, and leaders of the merger program.

Following are the items on consolidation on which Fulton county voters will be asked to express themselves if the county committee accedes to the request:

1. Combining every Fulton county governmental agency and those of Atlanta.
2. Schools.
3. Police.
4. Public works and sewers.
5. Tax collecting and tax assessing agencies.
6. Sanitary and health.
7. Relief, charity and hospital facilities.

One Vote Against.

Thirteen of the 26 members of the consolidation group attended the meeting yesterday and only one vote was registered against the proposed merger referendum. That came from Alderman J. Sid Tiller, who is now an attaché of the office of Senator-General John A. Bopka.

Tiller favored submission of the general consolidation of the two governments, but refused to agree to all specific items to be submitted, he told the committee.

During debate on the matter, Mayor Key and Dr. Charles Ross Adams

100,000 Children To Give Program For President at Piedmont Park

Massed Army of Youngsters To Take Oath of Allegiance; Chairman Erle Cocke Calls Two Meetings for Tomorrow on Final Details.

President Roosevelt will see 100,000 Georgia school children take the oath of allegiance to the American flag when he comes to Atlanta for the Roosevelt homecoming celebration. And while taking the oath the children will be lined up to form the initials of the president, F. D. R.

General Chairman Erle Cocke announced details of the children's program as he called two meetings yesterday, the first at 2 o'clock to be participated in by the state's two senators and the Georgia delegation in congress and the second at 4 o'clock, to be participated in by the chairman of all of the committees working on the celebration. Final details of the entire program will be gone over with the delegation and the committee heads, the general chairman said.

The Piedmont park program is under the direction of the schools and colleges committee, headed by Chancellor S. V. Sanford, of the university system, assisted by Jack Lance, president of Young Harris, in charge of colleges, and Professor J. C. Thomas, of Adel, in charge of elementary schools.

All children of school age will be massed in the park. The president, who is coming to Atlanta from his Warm Springs home, will go directly to the park where he will exchange greetings with the children.

Major General George Van Horn Moseley will read the oath of allegiance to the flag for the children and with each one carrying a flag the children will repeat it after him. The President will remain in his car for this ceremony and immediately on its conclusion proceed to Grant Field where he will be awaited by 100,000 adults who will hear his address as the climax of the homecoming day program.

It also was announced yesterday that following his Grant Field speech the President will ride past Atlanta University, where the negroes of Atlanta and the state will be on hand to greet him. In this connection leading negro citizens of Atlanta named a committee to take charge of affairs at the university. The committee is headed by Dr. John Hope, president of the university. Serving on it with him are W. A. Fountain Jr., president of Morris Brown; M. S. Savage, president of Spelman.

ATLANTIAN SAVES WOMAN FROM SEA

Survivors of Ship Wrecked in Pacific Are Brought to Manila by Rescuers.

MANILA, Nov. 14.—(Thursday.)—How survivors sang on waves lashed rocks to keep up their spirits as they saw comrades die was told here today when the destroyer Peary docked with 43 persons rescued from a freighter which crashed Sunday.

Tales of heroism and horror revealed one woman victim went insane before drowning and the vessel's missing captain surrendered his life belt to a crew member, then disappeared while trying to save his pet dog.

Bodies of two of the disaster's four victims were brought here by the destroyer. Practically all the survivors were suffering from exhaustion or minor injuries and two crew members who contracted pneumonia were rushed to hospitals.

The crew members who contracted pneumonia were R. B. Atay and R. Pickersill. Atay was in the water 15 hours, survivors said, while Pickersill was picked up, exhausted, and had swum around for two hours.

Steward E. D. Hitcham suffered several fractured ribs and Mrs. Windham, wife of a navy radio operator, was suffering from exhaustion and a dislocated shoulder. The others received mostly cuts and bruises.

Mrs. George Bissinger, of San Francisco, who with her husband completed the passenger list, was washed off a raft, but a thrilling rescue by W. H. Ponder, of Atlanta, Ga., saved her.

EFFORTS TO FIND HITLER FRUITLESS

Efforts to locate the family of W. H. Ponder, of Atlanta, Ga., who disappeared in the destroyer Peary, who figured in the rescue of a woman passenger on the ill-fated freighter, Silverhawk, proved unavailing at a late hour last night.

Ponder was not listed in either the telephone or city directory and other Atlantians of that name said they did not know him. An Associated Press dispatch mentioned Ponder as figuring in the rescue.

British Voters Today Will Decide Upon Future Course in War Crisis

LONDON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Great Britain's swift and stormy general election campaign ended tonight with the main interest in how badly shaken Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's government will be after the nation votes tomorrow.

A victory by the national regime was expected by party leaders. They predicted a reduced but sound working majority in the house of commons, probably of around 150, although there were unknown elements, such as how liberals will vote.

Several outstanding personalities, including former Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, were likely to be beaten in their constituencies. MacDonald, now lord president of the council, is accused by the labor party of being a "traitor" to it.

NEW DEAL FIGHT OF BANKERS ENDS; BOOM TALK HEARD

Vice Presidential Nominee Withdraws From Race After Battle; Britisher Sees Prosperity.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 13.—(AP)—A brief but bitter fight over the New Deal among members of the American Bankers' Association ended abruptly today when a candidate for second vice president, charged with being associated indirectly with government-controlled financial institutions, withdrew from the race.

The controversy broke after the convention had heard predictions of future prosperity and a call from President Roosevelt for lower interest rates to stimulate recovery.

The New Deal was injected into the election when the convention refused to accept the nomination committee's selection of E. G. Bennett, Ogden (Utah) banker for the second vice presidency, a stepping stone to the presidency in 1937.

Orval W. Adams, Salt Lake City banker, who criticized the Roosevelt recovery program in an address Monday, was nominated from the floor by backers who charged Bennett with being indirectly associated with government-controlled financial institutions.

Bennett withdrew from the race after a secret ballot, ordered during a wild session, was under way, leaving the uncontested post to Adams.

Before withdrawing, Bennett replied to charges of Adams' backers that it was "bunk" and "absurd" to inject national issues into the election.

Perhaps by coincidence, the question of bank charges for loans was raised and the President's views given at a time when the American Bankers' Association was in convention in New Orleans. There, severe criticism was being raised against some phases of the New Deal, particularly heavy borrowing for relief spending.

Mr. Roosevelt gave no intimation he expected the government to take action to force cheaper money. Some observers drew the inference he looked rather toward moving in this direction through the example of lower interest charges by government agencies.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Bankers received from President Roosevelt today a pointed suggestion that interest rates be slashed to prod recovery.

South Atlantic Flown By First Woman Flyer

PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, Nov. 13.—(AP)—New Zealand's young and adventurous first flyer, Jean Batten, stepped smiling from her airplane at Natal today—the first of her sex to fly alone across the South Atlantic.

She completed a 1,881-mile flight from Dakar, Senegal, at 4:45 p. m. local time (1:45 p. m. Atlanta time)—a total of 13 hours and 15 minutes for the trans-Atlantic journey.

Miss Batten, who abandoned school lessons in London to take up flying in a plane once owned by the Prince of Wales, sought her machine in a Harland-Grays' store at Natal in a three-hour fight.

"I'll fly on to Rio de Janeiro tomorrow," were her first words.

She left Dakar at 5:30 a. m. (1:30 a. m. E. S. T.).

From Lymington, England, he elapsed time was 61 hours and 7 minutes to the moment her plane was visible over Natal.

It was not the first record for the 25-year-old flyer, who flew a land plane on her latest aerial jaunt. Last spring she became the first woman to fly alone to Australia; on the way back to England she beat Amy Molinson's feminine record by completing the trip in 14 days, 25 1/2 hours.

Two years ago she was forced down in India on a flight to Australia and rode for miles astride a camel to obtain repairs for her plane.

WINTRY STORMS STRIKE N. Y. STATE

Northern Florida Rocked by Earthquakes; Eastern Rivers Flooded.

By The Associated Press.

Wintry storms and floods harassed sections of New York state Wednesday as earth tremors were felt in northern Florida.

In Quebec, blinding snow storms and low water levels above Montreal made steamship travel in the Gulf of St. Lawrence difficult. Ice broke down telephone and telegraph poles and snow blanketed highways.

At Palaka, in northern Florida, three earth shocks sent residents hurrying into the streets Wednesday night but no damage was reported. St. Augustine reported two tremors at about 10:30 p. m., eastern standard time.

An "upriver" wind cut the flow of water over the American falls at Niagara, baring sections of rock in the rapids in the American channel. The wind, blowing several days, backs the water up in Lake Erie and lowers the level of Niagara river.

Scotsboro Negroes Reindicted by Jury

(Copyright, 1935, by United Press.)

SCOTTSBORO, Ala., Nov. 13.—(UP)—Nine negro youths, defendants in the internationally famous Scottsboro assault case, were reindicted tonight by a special grand jury which numbered one of their own race.

Answering a United States supreme court reversal of original convictions, the jury, comprised of 17 white men and a negro laborer, brought back two indictments against each of the nine youthful defendants.

The verdict was returned in little more than an hour after the jury had concluded examination of witnesses. Like the original indictments, the new charges accuse each of the nine with assault of Mrs. Victoria Price and Ruby Bates, girl "hoes" who rode a freight train into Paint Rock, Ala., in the spring of 1931.

By The Associated Press.

A daring Ethiopian ambush in territory occupied by Italy resulted in a sharp battle Wednesday in which many were killed.

After concealing themselves in maize surrounding a caravan trail southwest of Ha Zien, northern Ethiopia, the tribesmen opened fire upon a long Italian caravan.

Bitter fighting followed in which the picturesque spahis (native cavalrymen) of Libya were the heroes of the day. After repeated charges with lances they drove the Ethiopians from the maize and put them to flight.

The cavalry detachment, under the command of Italian officers, including several noblemen, was serving as a convoy guard.

Makale Annexed.

Along the northern front, the Italian forces moved into new territory, Makale, "city of beautiful women," was formally annexed to Italy by General Emilio De Bono.

Several skirmishes with the enemy on the flanks were reported. In the south, Ethiopian warriors were said to be withdrawing toward Harar.

LOW INTEREST RATES SOUGHT BY PRESIDENT

cent for money; the Home Owners' Loan Corporation figure was 5 per cent, and the Federal Housing Administration guarantees no loan bearing more than 5 per cent.

Only yesterday, the chief executive voiced the hope to the New Orleans convention that bankers would "provide credit where it can be done upon a sound basis to business and industry and to real estate."

Today, Mr. Roosevelt was asked whether large bank portfolios and deposits reflected recovery. He said the expansion would play a very essential part in recovery if properly used, but added that if the money were not used in a reasonable way, recovery would be slowed up by the large deposits.

The President pointed to 6 per cent interest on real estate loans as too high. He said an effort was being made to get the rates down all over the country, expressing the opinion that while "pirate" rates which once prevailed in the south and west had been eliminated for the most part, there still is a need for stabilization.

F. D. K. Cites Example.

Citing the case of a man he talked with a few days ago, the President said this man wanted to buy an eastern farm, paying 60 per cent cash and giving a mortgage for 40 per cent. He was unable to get a better rate than 6 per cent at the banks, Mr. Roosevelt said, expressing the view that such conditions slow up recovery and that a low money rate should be extended to real estate transactions.

The President said he knew that in Georgia rates from 8, 9 and 10 per cent formerly were required on money borrowed for home construction. This prevailed not only in the south, he said, but in many sections of the country.

At the same time, Stewart McDonald, federal housing administrator, reported to the President that a residential building boom is in prospect for next year.

"Costs are down, money is easier," he reported, "and the fear of panic is over." McDonald added that banks are competing for mortgages.

Loan League Protests.

While the President termed bank rates too high, committee of the United States Building & Loan League, meeting in Cincinnati, said the FHA rate was too low at 5 per cent. This committee contended 6 per cent was "a nearer approximation to the present economic interest rate on long-term credit."

Questioned, a FHA official, who declined to be quoted by name, said the 5 per cent rate suggested came from the White House after "thorough consideration of all factors."

"Our contention is," he said, "that an insured mortgage loan should have a lower rate than an uninsured one, because it is safe the lending agency is insured up to 100 per cent as to principal and a guarantee of 3 per cent interest if the property is turned back to us."

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board also has represented as striving for lower interest rates. Chairman John H. Fahey was expected to touch upon the matter when he addressed the building and loan members Friday.

Of the 11,000 building and loan associations which are members of the league, 3,400 which were said to comprise half the assets belong to the home loan bank system. These may borrow from the 12 home loan banks at 3 per cent up to 10 years.

LOW INTEREST RATES CLAIMED BY BANKERS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Bankers attending the annual convention of the American Bankers Association here greeted President Roosevelt's statement that interest rates were too high with assertions tonight that banks were lending money much below the President's prescribed 6 per cent level.

Bankers chosen at random from scattered sections of the country made the following comment:

E. A. Walker, president of the Tradesmen's National Bank of Oklahoma City:

"So far as my bank is concerned we have a very large cash reserve in proportion to our deposits. We would not hesitate to loan all or any part of it at a lesser rate than 6 per cent if the security was good."

J. R. Cain, vice president of the Omaha National Bank:

"A good many loans are being made with us at rates under 6 per cent. I would say that they ran from 4.5 to 5 per cent."

Carl M. Spencer, president of the Home Savings Bank of Boston, Mass., and president of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks:

"I come from New England and the interest rates are coming down there as conditions permit. Money is being furnished at rates satisfactory to borrowers."

W. D. Ferguson, president of the Thomas County Bank, Colby, Kan.:

"We are just a little country bank and I am just a grass-roots banker out west. Our loans won't average 6 per cent."

One prominent banker from the industrial section in the middle eastern area who preferred to remain anonymous referred to the President's statement as "bunk."

O'Connor said in his convention address national banks made a profit of 3.33 per cent on capital in the first six months of this year and asked the bankers to share in the gains for the future.

Prosperity Prediction.

"It has always been my custom to present the facts and never make a prophecy," he said. "These facts, however, give me general knowledge of the banking situation and I am now to predict the present six months' period will be the best the banks of the nation have enjoyed for more than four years."

"The storms of yesterday have subsided, the picture presented to you today is one of hope and good faith," O'Connor joined Leo F. Crowley, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, who spoke yesterday, in depicting the country's "overbanked" condition.

"A mad scramble to establish a bank opposite every gasoline filling station across this continent is not a situation which can be contemplated with any degree of satisfaction," he said.

New Banks Chartered.

The national bank chief added, however, that only 132 primary national banks had been chartered since October 31, 1932, which he said was the smallest number of national banks chartered in any three-year period during the last 30 years.

In connection with rehabilitation work in the national banking field he said there are still 1,425 national banks in receivership, of which 593 with deposits of $1,067,524,707 have been placed in receivership since March 16, 1933.

He tried bank earnings in recent years and said national banks during the year ended June 30, 1932, suffered a deficit of $139,750,000, or 8.91 per cent on capital; for the next year a deficit of $218,384,000 or 14.39 per cent; and for the following year a deficit of $303,546,000 or 17.46 per cent. He said the situation was changed on June 30, 1935, showing a profit of $1,372,000.

Major Angas said the convention "America has at last turned the corner and even fears of elections and foreign wars are unlikely to check the tidal wave of recovery and prosperity."

The British economist reviewed the causes of the depression and cited the signs of prosperity.

"By artificial monetary methods, i. e., by getting banks to subscribe to government bonds, the proceeds being used for public works, the government has caused the amount of bank credit to be inflated by some 30 per cent from the low levels touched in the slump," he said.

"By paying out this money to contractors for public works and to persons on relief, this money has gradually filtered into the shops and has taken goods off the shelves until the last middlemen are giving increased orders to manufacturers."

"The government has, either rightly or wrongly, turned the vicious circle of trade contraction into a virtuous circle of trade expansion."

Federal Spending.

Of the federal government's spending during the present administration, Major Angas said:

"The American government need not hasten to pay the interest on the $100,000,000 of debt which it has incurred to prime the pump. If the government taxes the public only enough to pay the interest on the debt and to provide a mild sinking fund, spread, say, over 17 years instead of over, say, only four years; the extra tax burden will be quite negligible."

Brown, head of one of the largest building materials companies in the United States, said at the present rate another 10 or 20 years, two-thirds of the American citizens' income may be going for the cost of government and "we won't have any need for taxes because we will, in effect, be ready for a communistic state."

He said every citizen should demand every officeholder prove he has done his best to reduce the cost of government.

Election Flurry.

Except for the flurry over filling the second vice presidency, the election went off as scheduled.

The nominating committee's report was made by Colonel William Edens, of Chicago, chairman.

Robert V. Fleming, of Washington, was nominated for president succeeding Rudolf S. Hecht, of New Orleans, and Thomas K. Smith, of St. Louis, nominated for first vice president.

Their election was unanimous under the usual procedure of the convention, but when the second vice presidency was reached, a motion was passed to permit nominations from the floor.

Harry J. Haas, of Philadelphia, seconded Bennett's nomination and appealed to the convention to follow precedent and elect him.

"If you repudiate your nominating committee, the time will come when you will rue the act," Charles L. Smith, of Salt Lake City, Utah, member of the nominating committee, took the floor and said the fight between Adams and Bennett had been thrashed out before the bankers' convention of Utah "by a clean-cut majority and urged acceptance of the committee's report."

The convention, however, declined to accept the nomination and the secret ballot was decided on.

A recess was ordered for the vote and it was during the intermission that Hecht formally announced the withdrawal of Bennett in the interest of "peace and harmony."

dent of Clark University; S. F. Archer, president of Morehouse College; Florence Reed, of Spelman College; Willis J. King, of Gammon Theological Seminary, and C. L. Harper, principal of Booker T. Washington High School.

It is estimated that upwards of 50,000 will be at the university to greet the President. The heads of all negro schools in the city have declared November 29 a holiday in honor of the President's visit. The committee in charge of the Atlanta University phase of the program will be assisted by Jesse O. Thomas, secretary of the Urban League, and by Irving McDuffie, former Atlanta negro now a White House attendant.

Chairman Cooke said the details of the day's program would be submitted to Senators Walter F. George and Richard B. Russell Jr., as well as the state's 10 congressmen at Friday's meeting.

"We believe everything is in readiness and want the final approval of the congressional delegation before making any final details public," the general chairman said. "When this is done at Friday's meeting we will then go over the program with the various committee chairmen at the 4 o'clock meeting."

President Roosevelt is to leave Washington Sunday for Vincennes, Ind., where he speaks Monday. From Vincennes he will proceed to Warm Springs for his annual fall vacation which will be broken for the Atlanta celebration.

The Safety Council drive to inculcate the sense of care into every automobile driver in Georgia progressed well yesterday.

From the Boone Transfer and Storage Company, through Mrs. Rogers, manager, came 30 signed pledges.

EVERYTHING IS READY FOR GREAT MOTORCADE

Adequate Gas Important.

Stress was laid yesterday, in last-minute instructions, on the importance of every car staying with a tank full of gasoline. Additional fuel will be available from tank cars at Dublin, the luncheon point, but it will be impossible to stop for gas before reaching that city. It is 140 miles from Atlanta to Dublin by the route to be followed.

Ten motorcycle officers will accompany the motorcade, six from the Atlanta police department and four from the motorcycle detachment of the Georgia national guard. These officers will head the motorcade and will ride beside it to give aid in case of need by any motorist. They will assist in handling traffic at all towns en route and will signal for the start and stop of the motorcade.

The pacemaker car, immediately behind the motorcycle men, will be followed by official cars and all the others in the numerical order assigned by their numbers.

In Charge of 'Cade.

The Constitution and Atlanta Motor Club, among the joint sponsors for the event, will be in charge of the motorcade from Atlanta to Macon. At Macon other sponsors, the Macon Telegraph and Macon Chamber of Commerce, will be officially in charge until Saturday is reached, where the Savannah Morning News and city of Savannah will assume control.

At the end of the procession will be a wrecker from the Johnny Scarrett Garage, and a tire service truck. In the event any car needs service from either of these trucks, it will stop on the side of the road so that those behind may pass without using the left side of the highway until the service cars appear. After necessary repairs are made the car may resume its proper place in line at the next town scheduled for a stop.

"Cutting" Prohibited.

Cutting in and out of line is absolutely prohibited and if any car, for any reason, loses its correct place in line it must wait until a stop is made at the next town to resume its position.

Numbers of late applications were received yesterday at the motorcade headquarters on the sixth floor of The Constitution building and the promise of clear weather for Friday indicates that more late-minute decisions will ask for places in line today. As long as the quota is incomplete, these applications will be accepted. There are, however, only a limited number of such vacancies.

Weather prospects for Friday are for a clear day, rather cold in Atlanta but with the temperature rising to comfortable figures further south.

DEATH OF 6 CHARGED TO AUTOMOBILE DRIVER

WAURIKA, Okla., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Truman "Nook" Izard, of Duncan, was free tonight under a $3,000 cash bond to assure his appearance November 21 to face six charges of manslaughter, the result of Oklahoma's costliest traffic accident of 1935.

County Attorney Victor Eckler filed the charges today a few hours after the fifth and sixth victims of a crash died. The two who lingered were Rose Griffin, 9, and Frances Nadine Cowart, 2.

The four killed almost instantly were Mrs. W. V. Griffin and her three daughters, Jaunita, 4; Joyce, 2, and Mrs. George Cowart. Five other persons were injured when their stalled vehicle was shattered by a blow from the rear.

The county attorney said each charge accused Izard, truck driver, of "driving at an excessive speed without regard for the safety of other cars or pedestrians."

CHEST SUPPORT URGED TO KEEP TAXES DOWN*W. Eugene Harrington Says Agencies Must Be Able To Meet Full Load.

Adequate support of the Community Chest in the campaign that begins Monday is absolutely necessary if the expenditure of tax funds for relief is to be held down, W. Eugene Harrington, chairman of the Fulton County Public Welfare Board, declared yesterday.

Failure to give this support in the past is one of the chief factors in the present heavy load on the local government, Mr. Harrington said.

"In short," Mr. Harrington said, "the Department of Public Welfare sees the great necessity for the agencies of the Chest being placed in a position to meet fully the requirements of their particular field of activity, and if this is done a great saving will be made in the reduction of the load on the Public Welfare Department in the future."

All taxpayers are personally con-relocation of several of the smaller ones was seen as the only alternative if the county is unable to meet its obligation in the matter, it was held.

IMPERILED BY COUNTY

Under the agreement with the federal government, Atlanta is to furnish $1,000,000, which it will derive from the sale of bonds voted for that purpose, but the government originally had an added stipulation that an additional $379,000 should be provided by Fulton and DeKalb counties and the governments affected by the sewer program.

Hansell asserted last night that when the Fulton county angle is cleared up, his office will attempt to deal with DeKalb county, the only other obvious source of revenue and attempt to get a $37,000 contribution from it. He asserted the $37,000 from DeKalb would be utilized to meet contingencies and other necessary expenses which have not yet been anticipated, and that the $37,000 contribution from DeKalb county also is necessary to prevent curtailment of the sewer program.

County Should Assist.

If the county should not make a substantial and sufficient contribution to the sewer modernization program, the city would not be disposed to allow county citizens to connect to the city system, it was pointed out. Administration officials had repeatedly asserted that, and it is known Mayor Key feels the county should assist in the undertaking.

"Atlanta with WPA and PWA aid, can provide for its own sewage from the $1,000,000 bond issue and do a jam up good job of it," Hansell said following the conference. "If, however, Fulton county expects the citizens of the outlying districts to reap the full benefit of the program additional and supplementary local contributions must be made available."

"As far as I am able to see, the city is doing its full share and it appears to me Fulton county's commission can not afford to allow curtailment of the work with its attendant discomfort and restriction of use to Fulton citizens because it can not find the $139,000 necessary to prosecute the program to completion as originally planned."

"If the county should fail to make its proper and fair contribution, I do not believe even it would expect to benefit from a program which will be financed almost wholly by the city."

At Conference.

Among those attending the conference yesterday in addition to Reynolds, Hansell and Almand, were Councilman Ed Decker, M. T. Singleton, of the engineering firm of Weideman & Singleton, and Walter S. McNeal Jr., chairman of the zoning subcommittee of the city planning commission.

Almand expressed confidence the matter will be adjusted and the complete program carried out as originally planned.

RATES IN GEORGIA ON INTEREST LOW*Bankers Say President Was Not Referring to Institutions Here.

Although the heads of the leading Atlanta banks were in New Orleans for the convention of the American Bankers' Association, subordinates here said that President Roosevelt was not referring to Atlanta financial institutions when he discussed interest rates yesterday.

"Interest rates in Georgia are as low if not lower than anywhere else in the country," one banker asserted. "The Atlanta Clearing House banks all have plenty of money to loan and the amount of interest desired depends almost entirely on the collateral offered and on the person making the loan. Some business people with whom the banks are entirely familiar can borrow at a lower rate than others with whom they are not so well acquainted. Too, a number of businessmen keep their situations more liquid than others. Atlanta banks are anxious to get their money in circulation and are making all of the loans possible."

The bankers pointed out that loans for homes here are averaging between 5 and 6 per cent.

"As in the case of business loans the various circumstances govern," a banker said. "If a man owns his home outright he can borrow money for repairs a whole lot cheaper than a man who owns only a small equity."

MORTON MARYE RITES HELD AT ST. LUKE'S

Funeral services for Morton Marye, building engineer of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, who died Tuesday at a private hospital, were held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from St. Luke's Episcopal church, with the Rev. John Moore Walker officiating. Burial will be in Hollywood cemetery, Richmond.

Mr. Marye was 65 years old, and had been in failing health for about six months. A native of Richmond, he lived in Atlanta since 1907. He was widely known here, and was a member of the Piedmont Driving Club and St. Luke's Episcopal church.

He is survived by a brother, P. Thornton Marye, architect of this city, another brother, Robert V. Marye, Richmond, and a sister, Mrs. J. S. B. Thompson.

GOVERNOR PARDONS SLAYER OF FATHER

Governor Talmadge yesterday granted freedom to prisoners who have figured in two noted Georgia cases, Gerald Kitchens, of Glascock county, who was serving life for the slaying of his father, and A. S. Shirley, former chief of police of Muscogee county, who was serving 12 months for extortion.

Kitchens, who was serving as county treasurer at the time of his crime, struck and killed his father with an automobile crank while the latter was threatening his wife. Clemency was recommended by the prison commission and the Governor granted a full pardon.

Shirley, who was tried in July, was accused of accepting $8 from some negroes he arrested in a "skin" game. Shirley was placed on probation on recommendation of the prison commission, the Muscogee county delegation in the general assembly and a large number of citizens.

IL DUCE WILL FOLLOW 'EYE-FOR-EYE' POLICY

Italy Not To Order Blanket
Sanctions Reprisal Against 51 Nations.

ROME, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini plans a policy of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" against the 51 sanctioning countries, it was disclosed tonight.

Diplomatic circles said his plan of treating other countries as they treat Italy explains why no blanket order will bar all imports.

Authoritative sources meanwhile indicated Il Duce would hold further conversations with Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador, regarding the European situation.

An official statement concerning the renewal of the talks last night said only that it "dealt with the situation of the two nations in the Mediterranean." Great Britain has strengthened its Mediterranean fleet since the European tension arose because of the Italo-Ethiopian situation, while Italy has increased its garrison in Libya.

"Reprisance" invitation. Premier Mussolini, in his note of protest to each country which had approved the League of Nations' sanctions plan, invited last-minute "reprisance" by warning of the consequences and asking each country what it intended doing.

Decrees have been prepared for immediate promulgation against nations which indicate continued pressure against Italy, but Mussolini intends to let the League powers become the "aggressors" in the economic war.

The drastic effects of sanctions reprisals have never been minimized. Mussolini warned the people they must prepare for hardships, but promised them a victory.

Italy normally imports goods valued at 7,500,000,000 lire (about $807,000,000) and exports products valued at only two-thirds of that amount.

Tourist Trade Hurt. The tourist trade, however, by bringing in foreign money, was an invisible "export" which more than balanced Italy's account. The tourist business slumped tremendously as the Ethiopians war approached, and it was thought the sanctions may destroy what little remains of it.

Italy continued its war-like preparations, with almost all men employed in public service now militarized. Many attend regular drill instruction.

At the same time, the government is daily ordering restrictions to enable Italy to bear the burden of sanctions, and is stimulating production and distribution of necessities.

Business Profits. "I refer, for example, to such allegations that 'badness' is an inseparable counterpart of 'bigness' and that a constant curb must be maintained against business profits."

"I am convinced that, if we are to be motivated primarily by the assumption that business must be penalized and restricted merely because of its size, broad and penetrating recovery will be impossible."

"I conceive it as the fundamental duty of the Department of Commerce to endeavor to see that no extreme measures are initiated which may have deterrent effects upon business recovery."

With the constant support and co-operation of business, we will win in this objective.

"Business profits cannot be penalized or the profit-and-loss system will suffer with a bad case of angina pectoris. Business making profits during the depression have been held up to censure because it was pointed out that millions were unemployed, while some companies were actually paying dividends. This contrast is unfair. As long as we maintain our present capitalistic system, and it will be maintained, no obstructions or deterrents must be permanently set up to prevent fair and reasonable profits."

"A vast number of companies are now in a position where they cannot increase their activities without taking on many additional employees. The unemployed can be absorbed in private industry when and as more extensive profit-making develops."

With black penitents flitting from their set lances and their red tarbooshes and yellow sashes gleaming in the sun, the troops wheeled into the maize fields, ran down the Ethiopians and scattered them in flight.

Afterwards, they rode through the fields in ever-narrowing circles, routing out any of the enemy still hiding there.

ITALIANS LENGTHEN LINE IN NORTH TO 100 MILES. ROME, Nov. 13.—(AP)—General Emilio De Bono's Italian army lengthened its front in northern Ethiopia today, while Ethiopian forces in the south were reported withdrawing toward Harar.

The fascist forces moved into the Dessu region, about 50 miles east of the captured city of Makale, while on the western end of the line they reached the Takaze river.

(The Italian front in Tigre province thus appeared to extend about 100 miles from east to west. In the southward advance from Eritrea into Ethiopia, through Aduwa, the Italians had moved about 100 miles.)

Ras Nasibu, governor of the province of Harar, in which the important points of Harar, Jijiga and Dire Dawa are located, was reported in press dispatches from Mogadiscio, Italian Somaliland, to be drawing back his warriors from the southern front in apparent preparation for a strong stand.

The reports said Ras Nasibu was expected to concentrate his forces at Harar, the capital of the province and the second largest city in Ethiopia—Addis Ababa alone being larger—or at Jijiga, 50 miles east of Harar.

Italian advance troops were reported operating at Daggah Bur, only about 100 miles southeast of Jijiga and 30 miles northwest of Sasa Baneh, whose seizure the Italians claim.

(Jijiga, Daggah Bur and Sasa Baneh all lie along the Jerer river, which parallels the Fafan river, along which the Italians had been carrying on operations.)

General De Bono informed Rome that the first army corps, in entering the Dessu area, joined the column of Danakil warriors. He said the native army corps took over the Gherlacia section, despite strong resistance.

The second army corps, reaching the edge of the Takaze, halted at Adi Ras and Adi Enento, the commander-in-chief reported.

Italian advance guards were at Sellot, 12 miles south of Makale. Regular and native patrols were moving south from Aduwa, reaching Deraga, on a caravan route.

The fascists had previously not reached this section, 15 or 20 miles to the southwest of Aduwa, as their main advance from Aduwa (the center of the first front after the original push into Ethiopia) had been southwestward toward Makale.

their banks. Lowlands and cellars were flooded and water ran through the streets in several villages.

Binghamton, where the Chenango and Susquehanna rivers join, feared a rise in water might bring damaging floods. It was hit by heavy rains there Wednesday night. Near freezing temperatures were reported in many sections of the state.

RHON VALLEY COVERED BY DEVASTATING FLOODS. PARIS, Nov. 13.—(UP)—The beautiful Rhone Valley was devastated tonight with two reported deaths as the worst flood since 1856 swirled down from the mountains, inundating cities and villages and causing great damage.

The Rhone river was rising nearly two inches an hour, fed by swollen torrents of the Saone, Isere and Durance rivers as heavy rains continued with no prospect of a let-up tonight or tomorrow.

Two-thirds of the ancient city of Arignon, the suburbs of Marseilles, and numerous villages in the valley are inundated. Hundreds of inhabitants evacuated. In some places the flood reached a depth of 25 feet. Many houses reportedly collapsed and railroads, highways and communication systems were washed out. Several small towns have not been heard from.

The seventh regiment of engineers, stationed at Arignon, worked feverishly to save marooned farmers, whose buildings and silos jutted out of the water like small islands.

One detachment of eight soldiers and three civilians in a small boat containing food and provisions for isolated farmers, was stranded for several hours when their craft was dashed against a hill by the torrent.

ROCHESTER CLAIMS FREAK WEATHER RECORD. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 13.—(UP)—This city tonight claimed a freak weather record. The Weather Bureau reported that beginning at 2 p. m. the mercury stood at exactly 37 degrees for 15 hours, or until 8 p. m.

BUSINESS REASSURED BY SECRETARY ROPER

In those years displayed greater vision and ingenuity than did the leadership in many other fields, including those of government and finance. Today, in the aftermath of this indictment of business to which I have alluded, there still prevail misconceptions and misinterpretations concerning business which must be eliminated if recovery is to receive its full and effective emphasis.

'Merry Christmas' Cost Will Be Only One Cent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(UP)—You can say "Merry Christmas," for one cent, as far as the Postoffice Department is concerned, but if you want to add "love and kisses" to your greeting card, it'll cost you two cents more.

Third Assistant Postmaster-General C. B. Eilenberger promulgated the Christmas card mailing regulations tonight. He said you could send cards in unsealed envelopes for one cent, so long as you don't try writing anything but "Sincerely Yours," "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year" and "With Best Wishes." If you want to say anything else you must buy a three-cent stamp and seal the envelope.

You'd better buy a three-cent stamp anyway, Eilenberger said, because one-cent cards are tossed away by the Postoffice Department after the first unsuccessful try at delivering them, whereas three-cent cards get as much attention as a letter from the White House itself.

ALLEGED HOTEL THEFT BRINGS FOUR ARRESTS. The alleged theft of $198 from a man in a hotel on Auburn avenue near Ivy street resulted yesterday in the arrest of a woman, two white men and a negro bellhop, it was revealed last night.

The victim of the alleged theft is J. R. Stewart, 60. Those arrested identified themselves as Mrs. Pearl Hicks, 27; Jesse F. Cooper, 18; J. K. Lester, 63, manager of the hotel, and Andrew Harris, 32, negro.

The Hicks woman and Cooper were charged with suspicion of larceny, and Lester and the bellhop were charged with disorderly conduct, accessory to larceny.

Detectives J. J. Chester and L. B. Nahlik made the arrests.

BURIED IN CAVE-IN. BOY IS SUFFOCATED. WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Eleven-year-old Clifford Jackson was suffocated here this afternoon when he was buried in a small cave which he and several companions were digging in the yard at the rear of his home.

The pit, two feet in diameter, extended into the ground five or six feet, through aggressive, bone-dry soil. The boy was found lying on his back, his head buried in the hole, his arms outstretched.

BRITISH VOTERS TODAY TO LAY WAR COURSE accused it of neglecting the unemployed.

But Baldwin, in the judgments of most political observers, came through the campaign with enhanced personal prestige. Amid the confused issues at home and abroad the electorate is expected to rally around "Honest Stan" as a symbol of national solidarity in the face of the threatening turmoil on the continent. All major parties are lined up solidly in support of the League of Nations.

"I ask you," said Baldwin in his final plea at Newcastle, "for the same free hand you gave the government four years ago that we may continue our forward march—a free hand at home and a free hand abroad—to widen the restoration of prosperity."

"I warn you that if you put our opponents into power economic and social progress will be brought to a standstill." Baldwin denounced charges the government intends to introduce conscription—a free hand at home and a free hand abroad—to widen the restoration of prosperity.

Labor Wants Arms End. A strong lead for disarmament and international control of raw materials are in the program of socialization in industry forming the labor party's platform.

The voting will be upon 615 seats in the house of commons. There are 1,348 candidates, 584 of them government ones. Labor has 551; liberal, 151; independent, 45; and independent labor, 17.

There are 37 unopposed candidates, including Prime Minister Baldwin and 22 other government candidates. The strength of parties in commons

LOCAL RELIEF LAUDED BY ACTING DIRECTOR

Hopkins Charges Answered by Statement "Doing Good Job With Facilities."

Despite charges made yesterday by Harry L. Hopkins, relief and works progress administrator, that Atlanta's unemployed "not infrequently search for food from refuse cans or from curb market waste," Miss Melanie L. Gaines, acting director of the Atlanta-Fulton county department of public welfare, asserted the department is doing "a good job with its facilities."

The survey of local Atlanta and Georgia conditions on which Hopkins based his statement was conducted locally in August and was filed formally on October 18.

Miss Gaines asserted she did not know of the conditions which Hopkins described, but added she does not doubt they are true.

"We give a limited amount of assistance to every applicant who comes to us," she added. "Perhaps those people did not apply to us. It is easy to see our work is limited extremely when one realizes we have more than 12,000 cases on our rolls, and the maximum we can spend per person is little over $4 a month. That must cover food, clothing, fuel, doctors' bills and medicines. We haven't the money to do more."

Extent of Survey.
The survey report on which Hopkins predicated his statement embraced Atlanta, Macon and 17 Georgia rural counties, and followed a statement by Hopkins that those persons cut from the state's unemployment rolls by the federal government and handed back to respective communities as local charges "had gotten a tough break."

Hopkins attributed the Georgia situation to Governor Talmadge, who, he said "would not do anything about it."

The administrator pointed out that two-thirds of those cut from federal relief rolls are seriously in need of continued subsistence.

In Macon not one of the 110 cases was provided with adequate care, the report pointed out.

35 Families Studied.

Living conditions of 35 Atlanta families studied were reported for the most part "extremely unsatisfactory, many families reporting lack of food, clothing and medical care. A number of persons were found ill in bed."

Counties covered in the study were Chattooga, Murray, Lumpkin, Madison, Heard, Greene, McDuffie, Pike, Jones, Jenkins, Muscogee, Dodge, Tattall, Mitchell, Ware, Webster and McIntosh. Discussing the situation in rural areas, the report said:

"Some assistance was obtained from various sources, such as county organizations and relatives, but it proved insufficient to offset the deficiency arising from the cutting off of federal funds."

"Certain informed people," it added, "were inclined to feel that the eventual solution of the problem was to have the administration relief handled by a strong social agency in each county independent of local control."

Such an organization would be free from the political factors that often surround the administration of relief by county agencies."

Similar studies of persons dropped from relief rolls are being conducted in other states, including Colorado, Arkansas and South Dakota, the relief administration said.

POST OF LEGION GIVES PROGRAM AT HOSPITAL

The American Legion's "Temple of Song" program, presented by Atlanta Post No. 1 at Base Hospital No. 48 Tuesday night, was declared by veterans to be one of the most enjoyable ever presented at the hospital. H. H. Clark, chairman of the hospital committee, arranged the entertainment.

The program began with a song and a solo by Trumpeter Frances Stewart. The Atlanta Philharmonic Choral Society presented four numbers under the direction of Lawrence G. Nilson, with Ernest F. Immel acting as narrator, and Miss Alice Grey Harrison as accompanist.

The "Four Georgians," an accordion quartet composed of Miss Dolly McElroy, Fritz Meyers, Miss Gladys King and Hal Stevens, gave two popular numbers, followed by songs by Miss Blanche Strickland. "The Arcadians," a trio billed as Ralph, Rabbit and Bill, sang old-fashioned hymns.

One of the highlights of the program of songs was two solos by Richard Holtzclaw, bass-baritone, who sang "Old Man River" and "That's Why Darkies Were Born." Violin solos by Miss Hazel Taylor included Schubert's "The Bee" and Barowski's "Adoration."

Brazil's Mineral Water District Is Mecca for Seekers of Health

Rev. H. E. Russell, Traveling Georgian, Finds Beauty Spots in Famous Old Watering Places; Elaborate Gambling Casino Erected But Never Used.

This is the 42nd in a series of articles on South American travel by the Rev. Henry Edward Russell, of McDonough, Ga.—Editor's note.

LAMBARY, MINAS, Brazil, Oct. 9, 1935.—Today we have been passing through the mineral water district of this state. At the railroad stations ornate carriages meet the trains to carry the inhabitants of other regions who come to these watering places to their favorite hotel or boarding house.

In addition to these carriages that would have fitted into the scene well in the 1890's there were numbers of runabouts made of old automobile axles and wheels. This vehicle was known as the "Hoover buggy" in the United States prior to the last presidential election.

The water from these springs is as effervescent as carbonated water. It fairly sparkles as the gaseous bubbles escape. These springs are of many flavors, ranging from iron to magnesia and sulphur. The springs are apparently popular and well dressed patrons loiter in well kept parks where the springs are found. The visitor by the day can rent a glass for 200 reis. Carbonated beverages are bottled with this mineral water. Hotels supply each room with a liberal quantity. The abundance of this water that is sought for its health-giving properties forms a striking contrast with the dry northern section through which we passed recently where creek water was sold at a high price from a donkey's back.

Huge Hotel Was Planned.

Apparently Lambary was once highly favored by the state government. A political tsar managed to have the state build a large gambling casino here which he leased at a nominal sum for a number of years. The remainder of the plan called for a huge hotel that would house the players of chance next door to the chance house. The casino was built, but the lot set aside for the hotel is still vacant.

Lambary is a town of perhaps 5,000 people. This casino would be prized by any city. It has been closed for 25 years. The dream of an inland Monte Carlo exploded and the only visible fragment of this bubble is this elegant building, which must have cost an enormous sum. A keeper of the premises is still employed and this fellow was obliging enough to show us through the building. Besides having the look that is to be expected of a large building that has been constructed for amusement and pleasure it had two or three rooms that were works of art. One of these halls was 26 paces long, 14 wide and the roof was fully 75 feet high.

Walls Once Were Blue.

The walls had been painted blue long ago. Water, light and air has caused this blue to fade to a streaked sky effect. Large handsome chandeliers were suspended from the ceiling on gold plated chains. A rostrum, slightly raised, was at one end of the vacant hall. Birds fluttered about the roof. On the walls were 19 works of art done by a Japanese artist in lacquer. Each scene is placed in a hand-carved frame. Some of these are fully six feet high and four feet wide. "The Bridge of Heaven," "Pine Island" and "Kegon Falls" were in the group.

Elsewhere in the building were oil paintings of Brazilian celebrities and scenes. One room was furnished and decorated as the Japanese room, in addition to the hall that is lined with the lacquer work. Full length mirrors were still on some of the walls. No doubt the Latin heart that loves finery and display was fully gratified when this building was in its prime. It was rumored that some of the state officials at one time or another have appropriated the fixings of this building.

This casino faces a beautiful lake. Several islands dot the lake. A boat trip was made to one of these islands that is still preserved by the municipality as a beauty spot. Bamboo groves with shaded lanes, variegated flowers, trimmed trees and suitable resting places are situated about the island. In the distance is the quaint little town. A circular mountain range frames the whole picture. The isle of Capri could hardly be more lovely.

NEGROES ARRESTED ON BURGLARY CHARGE

Two negroes, who identified themselves as Coy Browner, 29, and Myron Johnson, 26, both of 7 Davis street, S. W., were arrested yesterday when Radio Patrolmen C. W. Cartwright and E. P. Payne halted the two in a car at Forsyth street, near Brotherton.

The officers found a bundle of checks and a bag of money on the front seat of the car, they said. Investigation revealed a rear door had been entered at the Willis-Pause Confectionery Company, at 244 Forsyth street, N. W., and the combination dial of a small safe had been pried off.

Browner, according to police, admitted robbing the store. Both negroes were booked on charges of suspicion.

WELCOMING SERVICES PLANNED FOR MINISTER

Plans for welcome services honoring the Rev. William Allison, new pastor of Western Heights Baptist church, to be held at the church at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night, were announced last night.

Special music by the choir will feature the services, and speakers will include J. E. Bowden, fifth ward alderman and deacon of the church; the Rev. J. P. Glover, formerly assistant pastor of the church; the Rev. J. Herman Gresham, pastor of Northwest Atlanta Baptist church; Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of schools, and the Rev. Dr. William H. Faust, pastor of Gordon Street Baptist church.

Mr. Allison comes to Western Heights Baptist church after serving the country churches of Mt. Zion, Stockbridge and The Rock.

ARRESTED AS FUGITIVE AFTER RELEASE HERE

Wanted as an escaped convict from Joliet, Ill., Joseph Lauson, white, was taken into custody yesterday by Fulton county deputy sheriffs a few minutes after he was released from the federal penitentiary here, where he served 14 years of a 20-year sentence.

Lauson is fighting extradition a hearing is scheduled before the governor at 9 o'clock this morning. The convict is also wanted in Jackson, Mich., according to police records, but that state waived rights to him in favor of Joliet officers.

LINDER MAKES BID

Farm Chiefs Invited Here To Meet 'Next President'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Farm chiefs of all states were invited today by Tom Linder, Georgia's lanky agriculture commissioner, to hold their 1936 meeting in Georgia—with the next president—Eugene Talmadge.

The state agriculture commissioners ended their annual meeting here but did not select the site of their next convention.

"I invited the commissioners to Georgia," Linder said, "to show 'em a real farmer—a farmer that's going to be the next president—a fellow trying to make a living farming and not living off government money—the commissioners might as well hook up with the next administration now."

Linder, close political ally of Talmadge who has criticized the New Deal, sharply fired a few shots at administration activities. He doesn't like A. A. he said, because "it's ruining Georgia."

U. S. OFFERS PRIZES FOR BABY BOND POSTER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The government now offers $1,000 in prizes for the best posters advertising "baby bonds."

The treasury's announcement of the contest today called for "an imaginative, lucid, telling design calculated to increase the sale of savings bonds."

First prize is $500, with another $500 to be awarded on recommendations of a jury of awards, headed by Secretary Morgenthau. Entries must be in by December 17.

No signed design will be accepted.

Reds Doom General.

KHABAROVSK, U. S. S. R., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Former Major Sorokin, of the white Russian army, alleged leader of an espionage system operating out of Manchoukuo, and his assistant were sentenced to death today after trial before a far-eastern army court.

Be Wise, Prof. Sniggelfritz, Put 'em All in One Pot!!

COOK THE "WATERLESS" ELECTRIC WAY... THAT'S HEALTH COOKERY

And so, Professor, with all your pots and pans you're having much ado about nothing to prepare a vegetable dinner. Those expensive, hard-to-handle utensils simply clutter up the whole place and embarrass your art. Forget them Professor, do!

There's a versatile Thrift Cooker on a modern Electric Range that cooks vegetables in their own natural juices, without water. Put in this one compact utensil potatoes, carrots, onions and cauliflower... or if you prefer, substitute a roast for a vegetable. Without intermingling of odors, they'll steam to delicious tenderness and retain all their precious vitamins, minerals and salts. They never boil! You don't throw away a large portion of these elements so vital to health. ONLY with an Electric Range can this be done. That's because heat is perfectly controlled. And it's far easier, simpler and cleaner than old-fashioned boiling.

SAVES 20% IN FOOD VALUES

Electric Cookery is Health Cookery! Whether foods are cooked in the Thrift Cooker, on the cooking platform or in the oven of an Electric Range, the health values so keenly needed are sealed within the food instead of being thrown away with excess water. The fact alone that 20% of the food values are saved by Electric Cooking makes it a most economical method. Don't cheat your family of the needed nutriment. Safeguard their health with "waterless" Electric Cookery!

FINANCES ENDANGER NEW JUVENILE HOME

Two Projects Imperiled by Lack of Emergency Fund, Says Longino.

Because Fulton county has made no provision for emergencies, the new juvenile detention home and the proposed convalescent home are in danger of not being constructed, even with federal aid, Commissioner George F. Longino charged yesterday at a special meeting of the board of county commissioners.

Discussing means of raising $26,000 for the detention home and $25,000 for the convalescent home, the commissioners agreed that the county has no money with which to furnish its share.

Longino and Commissioner J. A. Ragsdale, the minority members of the commission, requested Dr. Charles Ross Adams, chairman of the board, to "ear-mark" the $53,000 received from the sale of highway certificates for one of the two projects.

"The county should realize some capital improvement from sale of its capital resources," Longino told Adams. "Either apply this $53,000 to the juvenile detention home or to the convalescent home."

Adams replied that the money had already been placed in the general fund of the county. Longino previously charged that the highway certificates had been sold without his consent as chairman of the finance committee, in order to balance the budget.

Declaring that the juvenile home is the most important of the two projects, Chairman Adams said the WPA will go ahead with the work at once if the county will put up $10,000, with assurance that an additional $16,000 be allocated from the budget of next year. County Auditor James L. Respass told the commissioners that the money would have to come through reduction of other expenditures.

Longino's criticism of the county's financial condition was in line with the charges of waste and extravagance he made against the majority faction in starting a grand jury investigation of county affairs. Probed by two grand juries, the matter has not yet been taken up by the November-December grand jury, so far as could be learned. Foreman Thomas A. More and Secretary W. G. Rauch have made no announcement on the plans of the current jury.

Dr. Adams called a meeting of the board Monday to consider means of raising the necessary money. He declared that the original plan for the convalescent home required no actual cash from Fulton, only supplies and materials. The public welfare board later asked for $15,000 worth of materials and $35,000 in cash, he asserted.

Warning Repeated.
Longino reminded the board chairman that the beginning of the year he had warned of just such unforeseen emergencies arising, which would have to be taken care of out of county revenue.

"The operation of the county costs $300,000 more now than it did last year," he said. "I told the board that they must make provision for emergencies, but these fellows (meaning the majority faction members) went right ahead and spent everything they could get their hands on."

"Now that Fulton must either put up the cash for the juvenile home and the convalescent home or lose them both, we have not got a cent to give as our share."

"Other counties are receiving great benefits through the aid of the government by putting up a portion of the cost of the improvements. Fulton is going to lose thousands of dollars," he asserted.

Dr. Adams said every effort to find money for Fulton's share for the juvenile home will be made at the meeting Monday.

Most Modern X-Ray Equipment at Emory Hospital

An X-ray table, which may be moved to any position, and a fluoroscope, by which a doctor may see your heart, lungs or stomach, are among the machinery installed recently at Emory University hospital. Pictured here is the equipment yesterday, left to right, Wayne Smith, X-ray technician; Robert Hudgens, assistant superintendent; Miss Myrtle Smith, clinic supervisor, and Dr. Russell H. Oppenheimer, superintendent. Photo by George Cornett.

New, Noiseless X-Ray Equipment Now Installed at Emory Hospital

Noiseless, shock-proof X-ray equipment, perfected only eight months ago, has been installed at Emory University hospital. As used in recent major operations, the equipment shows some of the latest wonders of the "find out" department of a metropolitan hospital.

How the machinery works was explained yesterday by Wayne Smith, X-ray technician, to about 20 Atlantans who were the guests of Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory, at a luncheon.

An X-ray table, which may be turned to any position, and a fluoroscope, by which your doctor may look inside you and see your heart, lungs or your stomach in action, is in the photographic laboratory. The moveable table spares a patient the pain or discomfort of shifting to many positions. Mr. Smith pointed out as he switched the black table up and down.

"In the old machine it was possible for the patient to get shocked through mechanical imperfection," he said. "Through this one has a voltage from 100,000 to 400,000. It is shock-proof. The control mechanism is tube rectified and therefore noiseless. Moreover, it is automatic and takes guess work out of all the technical procedure of getting proper details and density in pictures."

Three weeks ago by using a portable X-ray machine (a small X-ray table) and a fluoroscope, doctors at the hospital were able to remove successfully a kidney stone, though the incision was only half the normal size. In a demonstration yesterday, guests saw a fluid move from a patient's mouth to his stomach. Special equipment for examining the kidney and bladder are in the third department of the X-ray department, the cystoscopic room.

Here the table is equipped with a fast photographic machine.

The second main room, completely protected by lead, is equipped with Westinghouse apparatus for deep therapy or treatment work. Here, patients suffering with such diseases as cancer are exposed to X-ray radiations. For such treatment the patient is not removed from his bed. There is equipment by which the doctor may measure the dosage, it was said.

Such equipment is eliminating old errors in surgery when a patient underwent an operation without the surgeon being sure of the diagnosis, Mr. Smith said. He said that today the X-ray differentiates abdominal conditions so efficiently that a definite diagnosis can generally be made before operating.

Open house will be held at the hospital from 3 until 5 o'clock Sunday, it was announced.

Slayer Surrenders.

GREENVILLE, S. C., Nov. 13.—Furman Watson, 45, sought for 18 hours for the slaying of his landlord, E. P. Henson, 75, came to Greenville today with a neighbor and surrendered to officers. Henson was shot to death yesterday on his farm in upper Greenville county.

HEAVY TERMS METED ON NARCOTIC CHARGES

Found guilty on nine counts of selling narcotics, Jesse and Hilda Renfro were sentenced yesterday to serve five years imprisonment each.

The Renfroes were the first persons convicted under Georgia's new narcotic act and the heavy sentence brought commendation yesterday from T. E. Middlebrooks, federal narcotic agent of the Atlanta district, who stated he was glad the teeth of the law are being applied by jurors against illicit "done peddlers."

Judge James C. Davis, in Fulton superior court, pronounced sentence on the man and wife. He sentenced Jesse Renfro to serve five to ten years and his wife from five to five, following the recommendation of the jury on the first five counts. On four additional counts, he allowed the sentences to run concurrently with the first five.

MRS. MARY S. REED PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Mrs. Mary Stovall Reed, widow of Lieutenant W. P. (Pony) Reed, widely known police officer who died several years ago, died yesterday afternoon at her home, 137 Fairbanks street, S. W.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Hicks; five sons, Claude D. Reed, David Reed, W. P. Reed Jr., Charles P. Reed and Frank S. Reed; a brother, Frank H. Stovall; two sisters, Mrs. C. C. Simmons and Mrs. H. Sherrer, and her mother, Mrs. Angeline Stovall.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Harry G. Poole.

Grady Patient Claims He Is Father of 42

Attaches at Grady hospital are showing much interest in William H. Warren, 64, former employe at the Atlanta waterworks, who started them by saying he is the father of 42 children.

Brought to the hospital suffering from a heart ailment, Warren said:

"Yes, I'm the father of 42 children—31 of them still living."

Warren explained it like this: Married when extremely young, his first wife gave birth to 36 children, including 12 sets of twins. In giving birth to the 13th pair of twins, the first Mrs. Warren and the twins died.

Shortly after her death, he married again, and that time became the father of six children. When the second Mrs. Warren died, he married again, but no children came on this third union.

The present Mrs. Warren keeps the record of the many children. The record takes up three pages of the family Bible. Some of the children Warren has not seen for 25 years.

"But when I get over this sickness, I'm going to visit all of them," he said.

ALABAMA DEMOCRATS NAME F.D.R. DELEGATES

Executive Committee Is First To Formally Declare for Renomination.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Alabama democrats today became the first to formally declare for the renomination of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Through their state executive committee, four delegates from the state at large were elected to lead Alabama's delegation to the 1936 national convention "to give President Roosevelt four years' additional term of office."

Governor Bibb Graves, United States Senators Hugo Black and John H. Bankhead, and State Chairman John D. McQueen were picked as the Alabama big four.

The state committee exercised its privilege under the Alabama law of naming the delegates at large. They could either do this or call for their selection in a regular democratic primary.

To Name Delegates.
The committee did decide that the balance of the state's delegates should be selected May 8 next in the regular democratic state primary.

Alabama will have 22 votes at the 1936 convention.

The committee decided that four delegates would be selected from each of the nine congressional districts. Each of these delegates would have one-half vote.

The four delegates at large will have a full vote. The committee adopted a resolution taking this action by a vote of 31 to 1.

The resolution instructing the delegates to Roosevelt's renomination was opposed by Judge Leon C. McCord, democratic national committeeman from Alabama.

The resolution placed the committee on record as endorsing Mr. Roosevelt's administration, recommended his reelection and provided for the election of the four men but gave them no specific instructions.

Uninstructed Delegates.
McQueen said tonight "The men who drafted the resolution told me it was their interpretation we were elected as uninstructed delegates. I had nothing to do with writing the resolution."

Commenting President Roosevelt for his efforts to end the depression, the resolution said:

"We feel confident that with four more years under his sterling leadership, our people will be leading normal and prosperous lives again."

The committee's resolution follows: "Be it resolved by the state democratic executive committee of Alabama:

Comment F. D. R.
"That as the representative body of Alabama democrats we heartily endorse that sterling democratic and humanitarian, Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and commend him and our democratic congressmen and senators to the people and nation of whatever affiliation, creed or faith;

"That we commend President Roosevelt for his great and successful work in bringing our nation out of the slough of depression and we feel confident that with four more years under his sterling leadership our people will be leading normal and prosperous lives again."

TALMADGE COMMENTS ON JOHNSON ATTITUDE

Governor Talmadge said yesterday if he were President Roosevelt he "wouldn't want the support of General Hugh S. Johnson."

"General Johnson is playing havoc with the New Deal," the Governor said. "If I were the President I would not want his kind of back-handed support."

Governor Talmadge introduced the general to an Atlanta audience Tuesday night and heard the former NRA administrator laud the President but attack part of his program and a number of his appointees.

THREE CUBANS HELD IN PLOT AGAINST HOME

HAVANA, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The Cuban army intelligence service today arrested three youths, one of them an American and his mother a Cuban and that the youth was born in Elkin Winn, who claims United States citizenship, and charged the trio with plotting to assault the home of "a high government employe."

The police said Winn's father was an American and his mother a Cuban and that the youth was born in Elkin Winn, who claims United States citizenship, and charged the trio with plotting to assault the home of "a high government employe."

BOSTON IS TAKEN OFF SCHOOL COMMITTEES

Brewer, President, Says Action "for Best Interests of Board of Education."

Ernest J. Brewer, president of the Atlanta Board of Education, yesterday removed Fred C. Boston, newly-elected sixth ward school commissioner, from two important school committees "for the best interests of the Board of Education."

S. C. Noland, ninth ward commissioner, replaced Boston as a member of the important buildings and grounds committee of the board, which is now engaged in mapping plans for the $800,000 school construction program, and as a member of the athletic and military committee. Noland also succeeded W. W. Matthews as chairman of the health service committee of the board. Matthews resigned, Brewer said.

Apprised on the action, Boston last night asserted he will resist the move and will take the fight if need be to the floor of the board. He questioned Brewer's authority to change committees once they have been appointed, and City Attorney Jack Savage asserted he could not tell whether Brewer had exceeded his authority or not without a close study of board rules.

"I am going to ask the board to back me up on these committee shifts," Brewer said, "and if it does they will stand. I am making this change for the good of the Board of Education. I think I am right about it and propose to stand on it."

Brewer refused to amplify his statement. "The only reason for these changes is that I won't be a cat's paw for them," Boston said. "They wanted me to do certain things, and I refused. That is why they are singling me out. I'll carry my fight for fair play to the floor of the board. This quick switch of committee appointments is unparliamentary and I do not propose to submit to it. I'll also have a proper statement to make at the proper time."

Noland said he did not know the charges were contemplated. "That's the president's business," he said. "He is doing that. I don't know anything about it."

Interim changes in committee assignments have never before been made by board presidents. Council rules forbid a mayor to change his committees during the year for which they are designated except to fill vacancies which occur voluntarily.

Noland said he did not know the charges were contemplated. "That's the president's business," he said. "He is doing that. I don't know anything about it."

Willis Howard, pastor of the Baptist church at Wrens, Ga.

War, Crime, Liquor and Divorce Denounced in Baptist Convention

Belief that the majority of churches will not sanction or support another war but a fear that "subtle propaganda" and an overemphasis on preparedness will lead the nation into another conflict was expressed by the Georgia Baptist convention meeting yesterday in the Hapeville Baptist church.

Asserting "every bulwark ever erected for the safety of civilization is being assaulted," the report as read by the Rev. W. Lee Cutts, pastor of the Capitol View Baptist church, voiced a bitter attack on crime, on the government for not protecting dry states from the ever-increasing liquor traffic and on divorce.

Eleven new members to the executive committee of the convention were named, and Savannah was selected as the next convention city, at the final session last night.

Those named whose terms will expire in 1940 are J. L. Baggett, of College Park; J. P. Boone, of Macon; A. B. Cash, of Adairsville; J. L. Drake, of Cordele; J. E. Sammons, of Macon; J. D. Matheson, of Thomson; J. B. Payne, of Blue Ridge; H. H. Stembbridge Jr., of Cedartown, and W. B. Underwood, of Monticello. George C. Steed, of Crawfordville, and A. T. Cline, of Toccoa, also were named, their terms to end in 1938 and 1939, respectively.

Dr. Louis D. Newton, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist church, was named to prepare the program for the next convention, which will be held Tuesday and Wednesday after the third Sunday in November of 1938. The Rev. T. R. Harville, of Millen, was appointed to preach the convention sermon, and Dr. Ryland Knight, pastor of the Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist church, as his alternate.

The report reviewed expenditures of wars and threats of conflict in Europe and continued: "Those who believe preparedness is the best agency for peace again are in the saddle and riding toward war on the crest of an unduly aroused patriotic and humanitarian fervor. Should we not put our millions into an education program against war instead of into armaments?" it asked.

President Commended. Though the committee rapped "coloring" in newspapers and "subtle propaganda," it commended the President and congress for their stand against the sale of war supplies to belligerents and their expressed determination for this nation to remain neutral.

The commission also criticized the "deplorable and chaotic liquor situation in Georgia," blaming intoxicants for the increase in highway fatalities. It criticized repeal on the grounds of "not reducing drinking, not promoting real temperance, not creating respect for law and not bringing back prosperity" as its advocates had contended. It said the commission's hope "lies in the home, church and school."

The report rapped the federal government for allowing liquor stores for they, it said, "counteract all temperance teaching." It proposed to send copies of the section on intoxicants to all Georgia congressmen, senators and the President.

Urging a war on crime, the commission said that a billion dollars a month was being spent on crime and said "the cost is insignificant with the terrible loss in spirit, development of good character and Christian citizenship spoiled in the making." The section on crime continued:

"Lawlessness has gone as far as it can be safely tolerated. Least of all can municipal authorities and police chiefs, sworn to enforce law, be permitted at will to set aside the statutes of the state. Crime will increase as long as people fail to resort to the most valuable means of prevention, the ballot and jury service."

In the section on divorce, the report pointed out that more than 100,000 innocent children were affected by divorce, and urged uniform divorce laws throughout the United States. It asked that "God save us from that type of representative who would seek to introduce into Georgia a divorce law that would compete with Nevada."

The convention also heard reports from committees on the Christian Index, education, benevolence, orphans' home and the Georgia Baptist hospital. The fund for the hospital is increasing steadily, it was announced.

WATKINS WILL SPEAK AT DINNER TO BOYKIN

Judge Edgar Watkins Sr. will be the principal speaker at a testimonial dinner for Solicitor-General John A. Boykin at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

Eugene Gunby and E. Clem Powers will also speak on the program which is designed to show the confidence of the members of the Atlanta bar in Solicitor Boykin.

The solicitor was recently exonerated of charges of perjury brought against him before a grand jury by Sam Worby, convicted in the false damage claim racket which Boykin is fighting.

CAPTAIN H. NEWCOMB DIES NEAR SAVANNAH

Captain Harry Newcomb, former resident of Atlanta and member of a well-known Georgia family, died Tuesday night at his home near Savannah. He was a graduate of the United States Naval Academy and served during the Spanish-American War. For many years he engaged in the shipping business in Cuba.

He is survived by a niece, Mrs. Thomas M. Johnson; a sister, Mrs. William Riley Boyd, and a nephew, Stuart Boyd, Atlanta.

ern Baptist convention, reported for the board.

In the afternoon session, the convention adopted a resolution approving a proposed bill which prohibits the appropriation of public money for sectarian institutions.

LEO STRAUSS RITES WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Leo Strauss, widely-known Atlanta businessman, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the chapel of Sam R. Greenberg & Company, with Dr. David Marx officiating.

Mr. Strauss, who was vice president and secretary in charge of sales at the Rita Dress Company, was a resident of Atlanta more than 30 years and widely known throughout the state.

He fell dead Tuesday in a hotel at Waycross, Ga., while en route to Florida on a business trip.

Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Beulah G. Haas; three brothers, D. H. and Oscar R. Strauss, Atlanta, and Emil Strauss, Dallas, Texas; a sister, Mrs. Morris Eisenman, and two sons, Edgar C. and Carolyn Strauss.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

A cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. You can relieve them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery that aids nature to soothe and heal the infected membranes and to relieve the irritation and inflammation as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Medical authorities have for many years recognized the wonderful effects of Beechwood Croscote for treating coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations. A chemist worked out a special process of blending Croscote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of Beechwood Croscote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children. Thousands of doctors now use Creomulsion in their own families and practice, and druggists rank Creomulsion top because in this genuine, original product you can get a real dose of Croscote so emulsified that it goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles, especially those that start with a common cold and hang on and on. Get a bottle of Creomulsion right now from your druggist, use it all up as directed and if you fail to get satisfactory relief, he is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

METHODIST SESSION OPENS AT AMERICUS

Pledges totaling $92,000 To Be Paid in Full, Bishop Says.

By ED BRIDGES,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

AMERICUS, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, opened tonight at the First Methodist church here.

William Newman Ainsworth, bishop of the conference, said that collection of church pledges, a minimum salary to pastors, and concentration of home mission efforts in four or five counties in the conference will be among topics up for discussion.

More than 400 ministers and delegates from about 75 counties came here for the sessions.

He said the South Georgia Conference would pay 100 cents on the dollar on its pledges, or about $92,000.

A brief welcoming address by Stephen Pace, prominent local attorney, and members of the First Methodist church here, a reading from the Scripture, a choir selection and a prayer were among the features on the opening program tonight.

The conference has met in Americus seven times during its 89 years of existence. No definite schedule of business will be followed, said Rev. H. T. Freeman, pastor of the local host church.

Committee Reports.
The schedule of committee reports and other matters to come before the conference will be fixed at the preceding session at which they are presented.

Two addresses, however, will be given on definite places in the program. They will be delivered by Harry

GUARDSMEN ON DUTY AT TRIAL IN MOULTRIE

Negro Charged With Slaying
White Man Faces
Court Today.

MOULTRIE, Ga., Nov. 13.—John Henry Sloan, a Moultrie negro, charged with the slaying of Otis Gay, a white man, will go on trial here tomorrow with two companies of the Georgia national guard on duty to prevent violence.

The guardsmen, under command of Captain B. W. Franklin, of Calhoun, arrived late last night and immediately set up machine guns and other arms around the courthouse.

Captain Franklin is in charge of the "flying squadron" of the 122d infantry, a picked detail which did rioting duty during the recent textile strike. The members of his detachment belong to various companies of the 122d. In addition there is present another company of militia from Dublin.

Gay was shot and killed on the evening of October 13 and he and a young woman companion sat on an embankment near here. The young woman said the negro approached the couple and killed Gay with a shotgun without saying a word. Sloan was arrested at Havana, Fla., two weeks ago after the slaying and the statement of a farmer who said he loaned the negro a shotgun.

The request for the troops was made by the sheriff and the attorneys for Sloan. Moultrie tonight is quiet but a large crowd is expected to be on hand for the trial tomorrow as Gay was widely known throughout this section.

"FLYING SQUADRON"
SENT TO MOULTRIE

Adjutant General Lindley W. Camp announced last night that he had dispatched the "flying squadron" of the 122d infantry and a picked detachment of men from the 121st infantry to Moultrie to keep order at the trial of John Henry Sloan, a negro, there today. General Camp said he was acting on orders from Governor Tamm.

The troops left Atlanta immediately after dark and were to be in Moultrie before midnight, General Camp said. The troops are under command of Captain B. W. Franklin, of Calhoun, Georgia.

The negro will be preserved in Moultrie, General Camp said. "There has been some ugly rumors down there but we do not believe the people will do anything but let the law take its course. However, in the event that anything out of the ordinary happens we have enough men there to handle the situation."

A. M. E. CONFERENCE OPENS AT THOMASTON

THOMASTON, Ga., Nov. 13.—The Atlanta Conference of the A. M. E. church convened in a five-day session in St. Mary's A. M. E. church here today with Bishop W. A. Fountain presiding.

Following the conference forenoon feast, the annual sermon was preached by Rev. A. L. Brewster, of Turner Memorial church, Atlanta.

The communion was administered by the presiding elders and Bishop Fountain.

The organization was perfected as follows: Doctors D. R. Fobbs, H. E. Thornton, B. C. Harwell, secretaries; D. B. Barrow, Hazel Brown, G. A. Roberts, marshals; R. E. Romans, W. R. Wilkes, C. C. Ealey, A. C. Danford, H. C. Carswell, B. V. Thornton on church journals; Dr. A. H. H. dispatch news reports; Dr. W. O. P. Sherman, David Norris, C. A. Wingfield, press reports.

The bishop's annual address before the conference included a report on the work being done at Morris Brown College.

The afternoon service was taken up in hearing reports from the charges by the pastors and the listing of applicants for the ministry.

The evangelistic anniversary was observed tonight. The sermon was by Rev. G. T. Stinson and principal address was by Rev. P. W. Rogers, of New Orleans.

CHRISTIAN SESSION HEARS MRS. MILLER

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. George E. Miller, of Nashville, Tenn., former missionary to India, today described the church's evangelistic work in foreign fields before the state conference of Christian churches here.

She told delegates how the Christian mission established churches and trained natives for pastors. The training of nurses and doctors and a fight on leprosy also were explained by Mrs. Miller.

Dr. A. E. Cory, of Indianapolis, spoke tonight on "Recovery in Advance." "The world is full of hate and spite," he told the delegates, "and the only cure is to find God through Christ."

Dr. Cory is director of pension funds for the Disciples of Christ. Various section conferences taking up matters of the church, were held today.

PASSES AT MARIETTA

MARIETTA, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—J. Z. Foster, member of the Marietta bar for 50 years, and his first president, died here late last night. Mr. Foster once represented Cobb county in the state legislature, and was prominent as a worker in the Baptist church.

Funeral services will be held at the home here tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be in Mars Hill cemetery, near Acworth.

MRS. R. E. DAVISON DIES AT WOODVILLE

Rites Will Be Held Today
For Widow of Former Prison Body Head.

WOODVILLE, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP) Mrs. Hattie Armstrong Davison, 78, prominent Woodville woman and widow of R. E. Davison, who served more than 20 years as chairman of the Prison Commission of Georgia, died at her home here early today after an illness of 18 months.

Surviving are five daughters, Miss Annie Davison and Mrs. L. P. Macey, both of Woodville; Mrs. C. S. Rowe, Corner; Mrs. T. D. Cook, of Savannah; and Mrs. S. C. Gilbert, of Lafayette, Ga.; two sons, J. E. Davison, of Woodville, and H. A. Davison, of Lafayette, Ga.; and a half brother, J. H. Armstrong, of Woodville.

Mrs. Davison was also the aunt of A. E. Davison, Clarke county tax collector, and Alex. Davison.

Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church here Thursday afternoon at 2:30, conducted by Rev. R. L. Robinson, pastor of Mt. Vernon Baptist church, assisted by Rev. E. E. Keen, of the Woodville Baptist church, and Dr. C. C. Davison, of Brunswick.

3 GEORGIA TOWNS VOTE BOND ISSUES

Waycross, Covington and Lumpkin Approve Improvement Funds.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—A school bond issue of $90,000, to be used in construction of a municipal high school here, was voted by an overwhelming majority—2,620 to 27—yesterday.

School children paraded to remind voters of their desire for the improved facilities. The lot for the school already has been purchased. A PWA grant of $83,000 will supplement local expenditures for the project.

Two other cities also voted bond issues. Covington voters approved a $25,000 issue for school improvements, and Lumpkin voters voted a bond issue for installation of a modern sewer system.

DR. HERTY IS HONORED AT FOREST FESTIVAL

WAYCROSS, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The South Georgia Slush Pine Forest Festival was given over today to a program honoring Dr. Charles H. Herty, noted scientist whose experiments in paper making formed the basis for the festival's exhibits.

Dr. Herty made the principal address of the day. Other speakers included W. W. Henderson, representing the Union Bag & Paper Company, and Dr. B. H. Minchew, president-elect of the Georgia Medical Association.

On last night's program, Harry Lee Baker, of Tallahassee, Florida state forester, discussed reforestation. J. F. Owens, U. S. Forest Service, Forest Experiment station at Lake City, Fla., also spoke.

H. S. Nevins, forestry professor, University of Florida, and Lester A. Albert, supervisor of national forests in Florida, also were on last night's program.

Words thronged the exhibit hall today. The Ware county string band won first prize in music contests last night. Brantley and Pierce counties also entered bands.

Dr. Herty in his speech outlined the possibilities of making paper and other products from pine pulp, an abundance of which may be found in the south, he said.

2ND DEATH SENTENCE IMPOSED ON NEGRO

MARIETTA, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—For the second time in two days Will White, a negro, heard the death sentence pronounced.

He was sentenced yesterday to die in the electric chair at the state penitentiary in Milledgeville on December 12 for the murder of Orel C. Swanson, a filling station proprietor.

Today he pleaded guilty to a charge of capital murder. W. P. Smith, a chair company night watchman, on September 28, and another death sentence was imposed.

Another negro indicted as an accomplice, was cleared today of the charge after White's statement.

DR. VERNER IS NAMED MAYOR AT COMMERCE

COMMERCE, Ga., Nov. 13.—Dr. J. C. Verner was elected mayor of Commerce today, without opposition, to succeed Mayor B. B. Hardman, brother of former Governor Hardman.

The following were named aldermen: W. M. Thurmond, T. F. Harwell, H. C. Carlton and Dr. P. P. Scoggins. Sam Hood was named to the water and light board to succeed W. B. Rice.

The officers will take charge January 1, next.

MRS. C. T. FREEMAN.
LAVONIA, Ga., Nov. 13.—Mrs. C. T. Freeman, 52, died here today. Funeral services will be held at Liberty church, near Caveville, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. Guy D. Settle, Miss Inez Freeman, Mrs. H. F. Fortner, of Atlanta; Mrs. Freda Freeman, of Marietta; Mattie Maude and Mabel Freeman, of Lavonia; and Mrs. George L. Gaines, of Lakeland, Fla.

MRS. R. K. JARRETT.
ADAIRSVILLE, Ga., Nov. 13.—Mrs. R. K. Jarrett, 65, passed away at her home in Pleasant Valley Monday night. She was a member of the Pleasant Valley Baptist church.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Evie Jones, of Adairsville; Mrs. R. K. Hill, of Ato, Ga.; one son, Clyde Jarrett, of Adairsville; and a half brother, Harlow and Henry Black, of Marietta.

Funeral services were held at the Pleasant Valley church this morning with Rev. Frank Edwards officiating.

GEORGIA'S ON TRIAL, ASSERTS GOV. SHOLTZ

Florida Executive Lauds
New Deal Before Columbus Group.

By BILL PEPPER,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Governor Dave Sholtz, of Florida, said tonight it is "unthinkable" that Georgians will not vote overwhelmingly for the democratic administration in 1936.

Making what he said was his "first public speech" in two and a half years, the Florida executive praised President Roosevelt and criticized those who "stand around on the street corner and snipe."

"Georgia for the moment is particularly on trial," Sholtz told the Georgia Affiliated Democratic Women's Clubs at their annual convention.

He did not mention Governor Tamm, who has been a vigorous administration critic.

"We wouldn't have Roosevelt criticized if there wasn't an election next year," Governor Sholtz said. "Nothing has been shown or demonstrated that Roosevelt isn't doing the best he can."

"We have balanced the budget down in Florida, and I give the President and the democratic party credit for making it possible for us to put Florida back on its feet."

"If conditions had gone on like they were three years ago, no governor in the country could have brought his budget into balance," he said.

The Florida governor quoted recently published figures showing expenditures of the federal government in Georgia under the New Deal and the results obtained.

"I'd be afraid of the man who never makes mistakes," Sholtz said as he characterized Roosevelt as "a human being."

"History will show that Roosevelt not only saved this country from itself, but put it back on the road to progress," he said. "He is a neighbor, a friend, and it is unthinkable that the democratic men and women of this state won't show by an overwhelming vote that they are for four square behind this administration."

Coke Speaks.
Erle Cooke, general chairman of the Roosevelt homecoming celebration at Atlanta November 20, outlined plans for handling crowds which he said should "approach a half million" for the occasion.

The New Deal was also praised today in a resolution adopted by the convention.

The resolution was introduced by Mrs. W. O. Kinney, of Lakeland, Fla., and was adopted amid applause.

"Women of Georgia," said Mrs. Kinney, "have been and still are loyal supporters of the President."

The resolution reaffirmed the stand of the organization taken at its convention last year in pledging support to the President.

Criticism of the republican party was voiced by Kirkland Sutlive, of Blackshear, president-elect of the Georgia Press Association, who spoke at a press breakfast, a feature of the day's convention program.

Republicans, Sutlive said, are not going to be able to "crank their back" to the constitution's propaganda down the throats of farmers who are better off than they have been in years.

"Nor are they going to be successful in holding their blades over the heads of the laboring man who now carries a full dinner pail and has found use for an alarm clock," he added.

Peace Policies Lauded.
A resolution praising the administration's peace policies, and commending President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull "for their stand on neutrality," was offered by Mrs. J. E. Hayes, of Monticello, with the support of Mrs. J. A. Rollison, of Waycross, president of the organization. It will be voted on tomorrow.

The clubs voted to work for elimination of numbers on ballots, and for revision of Georgia laws to permit women to sit on juries.

"So long as the number appears on the ballot it is not secret," said Mrs. L. L. Turman, of Atlanta, who presented the proposals in the report of the organization's legislative committee.

The proposal for jury service for women was adopted 24 to 5.

Mrs. Charles W. Tillett Jr., of Charlotte, N. C., of the woman's division of the democratic national committee, spoke to the convention last night, urging women to enter party politics.

Miss Mary Dawson, of Washington, chairman of the advisory board of the woman's division, democratic national committee, was chief speaker on this afternoon's program.

SAFETY DRIVING CLUB FORMED IN CEDARTOWN

CEARTOWN, Ga., Nov. 13.—A meeting of citizens, city council and the police department was held here last night to discuss the traffic situation in Cedartown and to seek remedies of handling the congested conditions.

No definite plans were adopted, however, a number of suggestions were considered, and some changes in the handling of the traffic problems will probably be adopted.

However, a Safety League campaign has been definitely adopted here, which is being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, the Exchange Club and the Woman's Club. These organizations have ordered literature and will actively campaign the city on behalf of careful driving.

Those present last night pledged themselves to a careful handling of their cars.

CHATAHOOCHEE BODY PLANS ALABAMA UNIT

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—A group of prominent Columbus civic leaders will go to Abbeville, Ala., November 15 for a sixth district organization meeting of the Chatahoochee Valley Chamber of Commerce. Heading the delegation will be James W. Woodruff, of Columbus, president of the organization.

Congressman Henry Steagall, of Alabama, and L. P. Dickie, southeastern manager of the United States Chamber of Commerce, are among the speakers. Others will be J. W. Simmons, of Bainbridge, a state senator; E. B. Glover, of Abbeville; and W. J. Fielder and Robert Elliott, of Columbus.

Makale, 'City of Beautiful Women,' Formally Annexed in Name of Duce

Traitorous Gugsas' Men Sweep Litter From Looted Palace
To Receive General De Bono; Invaders Take Possession of Most Recent Gain.

MAKALE, Ethiopia, Nov. 13.—(AP) Makale—"the city of beautiful women"—was formally annexed to Italy today while advance fascist flank guards skirmished with the enemy.

General Emilio De Bono, commander in chief of Italy's African armies, arrived to take formal possession of the city in the name of Premier Mussolini and King Victor Emmanuel.

Wild shouts and fierce gestures of welcome greeted him from the warriors of Ras Gugsas, traitorous son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie and the first of the fascist forces to enter the city. De Bono was accompanied by Count Galeazzo Ciano, son-in-law of Premier Mussolini.

Makale is known to Eritreans as the "city of beautiful women" because of a colony of Greeks settled here many years ago and intermarried.

In preparation for De Bono's visit, Gugsas' men swept and cleaned the sumptuous palace built for Gugsas' grandfather, Emperor Johannes. It had been looted and looted by evacuating Ethiopian warriors, who fled before the Italian advance.

General De Bono went immediately to the palace and, surrounded by officers and local priests, formally annexed the city.

As Gugsas' men, on brilliantly blanketed horses, rode the streets shouting victory chants, and formed in groups for war dances, De Bono rode out beyond the city to inspect outposts and listened to reports of scattered fighting along the flanks of the advance.

Native corps, in "mopping up" operation, have engaged in numerous skirmishes with Ethiopian bands on the flanks. Reports indicated, however, the enemy had fled after trying several times to cut through the flank guards and sever communications.

Twin-Bearing Mother Awaiting Arrival of Fourth Set in Hospital

By MARTIN KANE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—(UP)—Every time Mrs. Cora Hausen has a baby it's a two-to-three shot she'll have two babies.

Mrs. Hausen will be 43 tomorrow in Cook county hospital, where she is awaiting a mass production stork carrying her 13th and 14th babies. X-ray studies show there will be her fourth set of twins. She has six other children, born singly.

Dr. August F. Daro, her obstetrician, said that as Mrs. Hausen, whose husband, William, makes $33 a week as a chauffeur, gets older her chance of having twins will increase.

"It has been noted," he said, "that multiple pregnancies occur more frequently in older women than in young women. Thus, a woman of 40 has a greater chance of having twins than a woman of 20. We don't know why this is but statistics establish it."

Mrs. Hausen's other twins include two pairs of boys and a boy and a girl. All the twins look alike except that of the oldest pair, Billy and Shirley, 12. Billy is taller than his sister. Her oldest child is Dorothy, 19. Then come Arthur, 18, and then the twins began to arrive.

"I hope these babies will be both girls," Mrs. Hausen told the doctor. "Then I'll have seven girls and seven boys. But of course it doesn't matter much."

Neither she nor her husband is worried about supporting the youngsters. They have all grown sturdy on a simple diet of stew, vegetables and salads.

The Hausens live in an 8-room house, behind which is an orchard which supplies them with assorted fruits, most of which are preserved for winter use. Mrs. Hausen has a rock garden and her husband has built a swimming pool for the youngsters.

She hoped the latest twins would be born on her birthday but Dr. Daro said that was not probable.

Misses Margaret Holcomb and Virginia Merry, two of the season's most popular debutantes, are pictured here making a selection from Zachry's unlimited array of gift suggestions for men.

DEBUTANTES are quick to recognize smart things to wear. They are critical style observers. Atlanta's fastest growing men's store appreciates their endorsement and comment that "Men look better dressed when they are dressed by Zachry."

Trained Zachry representatives join hands with world famous names in men's wear to create the utmost in quality and style at a reasonable price. They're ever on the alert to give you the worth-while new things.

And these well-known labels men like on the clothes they wear—Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes, Stetson Hats, Arrow Shirts, Nettleton Shoes, Interwoven Socks, Hickok Belts—will bear the same prestige on the gifts you give.

DECISION IS DELAYED ON HERNDON APPEAL

Hearing Ends, But Judge
Withholds Ruling Pending
Study of Evidence.

Hearing of the habeas corpus petition of Angelo Herndon, convicted negro communist, was finished yesterday in Fulton superior court, but Judge Hugh M. Dorsey reserved announcement of his decision.

The judge said he would rule on the petition as soon as he has time to read evidence and cases cited by the lawyers during the hearing.

J. Walter LeCraw, assistant solicitor general, who opposed the petition of Herndon, yesterday answered the arguments of Whitney North Seymour, of New York, former assistant United States solicitor-general, who told the court Georgia's insurrection law is not only unconstitutional but is too vague and indefinite for conviction by any jury.

LeCraw denied the law is unconstitutional, and said the fourteenth amendment, to which Seymour contended the Georgia law is contrary, was never intended to be absolute in guarantee of free speech in that there is a limitation on free speech which denies the right of defaming the character of a virtuous woman, advocating the forcible overthrow of the government, or any statement tending to cause a breach of the peace.

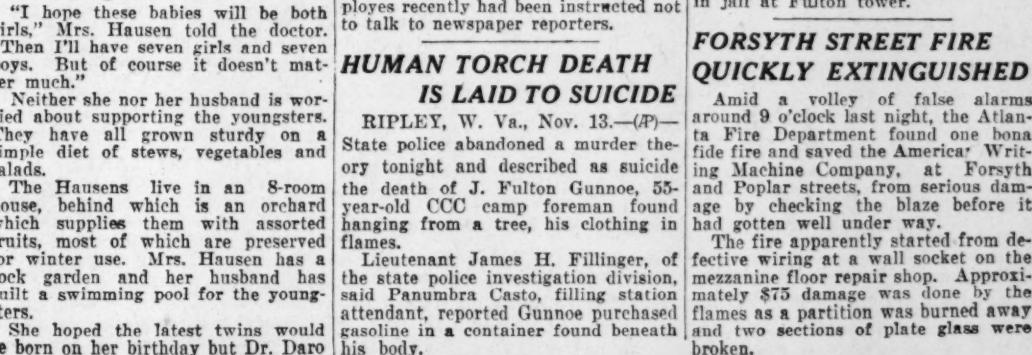

Herndon, LeCraw said, plotted the overthrow of the government and the setting up of a negro republic in the belt from Virginia to Texas. The negro, declared the solicitor, was a paid organizer of the communist party and had signed up a number of members, every one of whom was sworn to carry out the program of the international communist party as the abolition of private property and the overthrow of the present form of government. Literature found in his possession advocated negroes seizing all property now belonging to white persons and ruling the south, the solicitor said.

Seymour previously contended Herndon should be freed of his sentence of 15 to 20 years on conviction of attempting to incite a riot, because the law under which he was convicted is unconstitutional and has never been tested in supreme court. He and Elbert P. Tuttle and W. A. Sutherland, Atlanta lawyers, represented the negro in his petition. Herndon is still held in jail at Fulton tower.

FORSYTH STREET FIRE QUICKLY EXTINGUISHED

Amid a volley of false alarms around 9 o'clock last night, the Atlanta Fire Department found one bona fide fire and saved the American Writing Machine Company, at Forsyth and Poplar streets, from serious damage by checking the blaze before it had gotten well under way.

The fire apparently started from defective wiring at a wall socket on the mezzanine floor repair shop. Approximately $75 damage was done by the flames as a partition was burned away and two sections of plate glass were broken.

Athens Sees 9 Seniors in Last Game; Tech Routs Scrubs

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 13.—Hark to the voice crying from the wilderness. The lone voice, the solitary vocal refrain picking these underdog Bulldogs to win from those Tigers from Old Lou on Saturday here at Sanford field.

Well, maybe one shouldn't hark too well. There isn't much reason for that hunch. On the basis of the cold, hard facts L. S. U. should take the underdog Bulldogs by a couple of those touchdowns, and this voyage of discovery over here today discovered nothing to change that dope.

The underdog Bulldogs haven't got any faster. They aren't any heavier. Nor a bit more effective. They look just the same, just as ugly or just as handsome, as the case may be. They are just the same group of Georgia boys who took a defeat at the hands of Alabama, and who last week swept Tulane off the lot.

"How about it?" I asked the Georgia coaches before the practice today. They were all busy taking headache medicine. "It's a nice day after the rain yesterday," they said.

It was a nice day outside. Nice and warm and sunny. There was no argument about that.

One and all admit that on the basis of the grand old dope, Old Lou from L. S. U. should win here Saturday. I admit it myself.

But these football teams don't always do what they should. This lone hunch of mine is based on the fact that the Georgia boys should have a little luck some day. They didn't have any against Alabama.

Well, isn't Saturday a nice day for luck? I think so. A nice, lucky Saturday. One of those perfect days. I like to take sides. And I yearn to see this team from Athens leap on those Tigers from L. S. U. and treat them as our old pal Tarzan does those Tigers he meets every morning in your favorite newspaper.

So, Saturday is going to be one of those lucky days. Maybe it doesn't make sense. But so few things do these days.

I'll tell you what. If Georgia doesn't win you come up to the press box and make faces at me. I'll be there. And I can take it.

IT'S A CURIOUS RECORD.

It's a curious record this L. S. U. team has for this season. It includes, does this team, the best material south of the old Mason fruit jar line.

It opened up the season by dropping one to Rice by a field goal margin. It had a tough afternoon beating Arkansas by a touchdown. It took Manhattan very well but so is your old Manhattan. I mean, the Manhattans this year are just a lot of pals to the team needing a victory.

L. S. U. won from Vanderbilt by five points, the score being 7 to 2. They then took the Auburn Tigers, 6 to 0. That, of course, looks like a very respectable victory but still, there is the Tennessee-Auburn game which Tennessee won. This is one of those seasons which make strong men grow pale as they try to figure it out.

Against Mississippi State the L. S. U. Tigers really got going. Mississippi State had set up, according to Vernon Smith, who scouted the game for Georgia, a special secondary defense to stop the dangerous L. S. U. passes.

So the Tigers ran with the ball. That was the obvious thing to do.

But they had not done so all season. Their running game had been nil. But against the Mississippi State Maroons it was great.

They employ three basic formations. They run and pass from a single wing back formation. They throw most of their long ones from a double wingback formation and also toss most of their power plays from this set. And they run and pass from a short kick formation almost like a single wingback set. It will be the first double wingback formation Georgia has faced all year.

And it means that Tommy Haygood, the big sophomore tackle, will play as long as he is able.

Against a double wingback formation the tackles drive across fast. But that doesn't always work. They've smartened up, have the double wingback coaches, so they use spinners and spin back through the positions vacated by the tackles.

Oh, football is a merry, jolly game. And no wonder the coaches have headaches.

But I wouldn't miss this one here Saturday. It's going to have more thrills in it than a library of dime novels.

BENGAL PLAYS WELL STOPPED BY BULLDOGS

Backs Drilled Against L. S. U. Passing Game by Mehre.

By Felton Gordon.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 13.—Georgia's "home game" final with the raging L. S. U. Tigers here Saturday will see nine Bulldog varsity team men in their last appearance at Sanford stadium.

They are Frank Johnson, guard; Allen Shi, tackle; Alec Ashford, end; Leroy Moorehead, guard; Al Minot, right halfback; Charlie Treadaway, quarterback; Henry Wagon, end, and Co-Captain John McKnight and John Bond. Several others will gloat their hats to the Classic City, although tremendous local followings are expected at the Tech and Auburn games.

L. S. U. plays failed to make impressive gains in the scrimmage. Guy Miller, left halfback, was driving off tackle for appreciable gains occasionally. He was the chief worry to the varsity squad. Coot Vandiver and Louis Rosenblatt, freshmen, were doing well. Several passes were completed by the Red Devils.

VARIED DRILL.

After the regular kicking practice, the backs were drilled on defense against L. S. U. passes. Tackles were absorbing various tactics, and later hit the tackling dummy. The Red Devils were learning enemy formations, the charging sled and bucking machine were also brought into play to make the workout an all-around affair.

Although first-stringers were substituted freely, the following started the scrimmage: Hugh O'Farrell and Otis Maffett, ends; Tommy Haygood and John Davis, tackles; Pete Tinsley and J. Hall, guards; Buddy Milner, center; Andy Ridenberry, quarterback; Glenn Johnson and Alf Anderson, halfbacks, and Johnny Jones, fullback.

Plans are being made to handle the largest crowd since the Tulane game of 1931. A gala week-end with university dances Friday and Saturday night is in the air. Reservations for hotel accommodations and tickets are coming in fast. Six special trains will bring L. S. U.'s multitude of supporters to the scene of the battle which will hold the Southern spotlight.

STOP IN ATLANTA.

Following the schedule of the Atlanta team when it played Georgia this year, the L. S. U. squad will stop over in Atlanta Friday. Friday afternoon it will hold a light workout. It will arrive in Athens Saturday morning aboard a special train to avoid the heavy traffic. Coach Mehre will send his boys through the usual drill Friday and then ride the time. Given this early in the week a tense atmosphere is taking its grip in this Classic City. Not until the verdict has been written Saturday night will it begin loosening up, even the Italo-Ethiopian war steals the interest from football, and the L. S. U.-Georgia game here this week.

Tigers Hold Defense Duel.

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 13.—Louisiana State University's football squad scrimmaged defensively today as the coaching staff tried to build up resistance to the kind of plays Georgia is expected to uncork in Athens Saturday.

The team will leave for Georgia tomorrow night, and more than 3,000 students and other supporters will follow by six special trains the next day.

Joe Hall, of Oklahoma City, and Harold Glynn, of Atlanta, tonight will battle in the feature eight-round boxing bout of a program that will include 44 rounds of boxing in the city auditorium. Cleve Roby, old-time matchmaker, is putting on the show and promises fast and furious action.

Of the seven bouts, two will be white and five colored. Roy Dunn, Atlanta, and K. O. Swart, New Orleans, meet in the semi-final bout. Other bouts, promising and colorful, include Dynamite Red vs. T. Hubert; B. Johnson vs. a foe to be named today; Young Billy Hooper vs. Young Tiger Flowers, Atlanta; A. Mims, Morris Brown, vs. Black Jack, Atlanta; and Alphonse vs. Sammy Banks, Atlanta fighters. These are all six-rounders.

The first bout goes on at 8:30.

Tigers in Tough Scrimmage for Petrels

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 13.—(AP)—With Sam McCoskey back at his regular guard post, the Auburn Tigers men went through a stiff scrimmage session this afternoon as they prepared to entertain Olethorpe in their homecoming day game here Saturday.

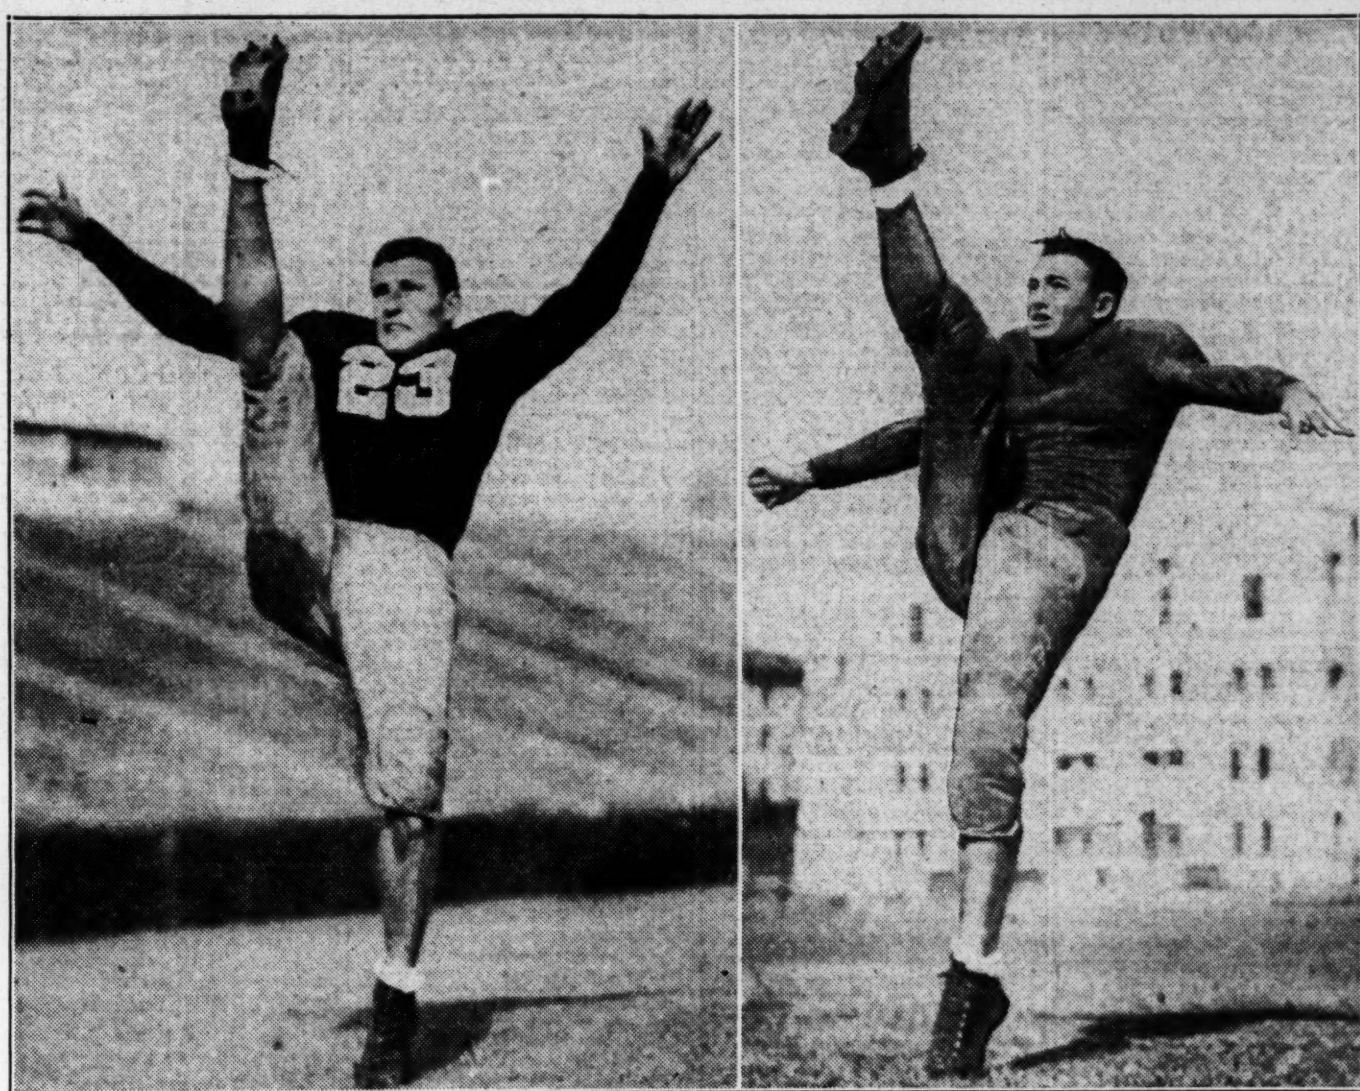

Coach Jack Meagher kept the boys at it until long after dark. The squad will probably be in fine physical trim by the end of the week.

Kicking Aces--Of Georgia--and L. S. U. Limber Up

John Bond, co-captain and outstanding left halfback for the Georgia Bulldogs, left, above, will be called upon to bring out his best kicking Saturday to keep pace with the punters of L. S. U. There are three—Abe Mickal, Bill Crass and Pat Coffee. Coffee is shown at right, above. He is a sophomore halfback and is one of the finest runners and kickers in the south. A great duel is anticipated at Athens when Georgia takes on unbeaten L. S. U. Saturday.

Vandy Points For Triumph Against Vols

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Although the University of Tennessee has lost three games this season, Coach Bill Britton said today that "if we beat Vanderbilt next Saturday, we'll consider it a successful season, just like they will, if they beat us."

Which means that some 15,000 fans will see the usual "dog fight" between two of Dixie's greatest grid rivals—a rivalry dating back to 1892.

"Vandy is going to shoot the works against Tennessee," Britton added, "but we hope to beat them. However, this is one game on which the outcome can't be predicted."

With the exception of three players, Britton said his squad "is in pretty good shape."

VOLS CRIPPLED.

Phil Dickens, star halfback; Sam Sharpe, sophomore half, and Frank Crawford, a regular tackle are out with injuries and probably will see little action. Woodrow Derryberry, reserve halfback, is being groomed to take Dickens' place. Derryberry played the hero's role in the Ole Miss game at Memphis last week, running for one touchdown and hurling a touchdown pass to Rose in the closing seconds to snatch victory for Tennessee.

Unless there's a lot of sunshine behind them now and Saturday, a muddy field is in prospect. During the last two days nearly four inches of rain has fallen.

STRESSES DEFENSE.

Regardless of field conditions, Coach Britton is stressing defense against Coach Ray Morrison's vaunted "aerial circus," and polishing the Volunteers' running and passing offense.

The Commodores, who have lost three games this season by close scores, will be gunning for their first victory over a Tennessee eleven since 1927. Out of the last eight games, Tennessee has won six. Two ended in ties. From 1892 to 1927, Vanderbilt looked Tennessee in 18 of 22 games. The Vols took two, and two were tied.

SEEKS NEW RECORD.

Godfrey Gillam, Australian swimmer, hopes to set a world record by swimming three miles or more every day for a year. He began his routine April 1 and has already covered 600 miles.

Petrels' Trainer Goes Under Knife

Old Man Injury Jinx, of Oglethorpe, who has found the Petrels pretty easy pickings for the past three or four weeks, seems to have done for himself. He was taken to the hospital for an operation and gone into the hospital business.

Saturday, H. B. McCullough, star Petrel center, played 59 minutes in the Emory-Henry football game before Old Man Injury Jinx got him. He suffered a head injury which put him in St. Joseph's hospital. His condition, however, is better and the grid star will be released from the hospital within a few days.

As if Coach Patrick hasn't had enough trouble this year, his trainer, Stacy Howell, yesterday was operated on for an acute attack of appendicitis. His condition is reported as "fine."

'As Tight as a Clam' Is Old Lou's Mentor

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 13.—(AP)—When quiet, unassuming Bernie Moore was named head football coach at Louisiana State University last winter it looked like a package of trouble had landed in his lap.

For the man who had never been the boss of a "big time" grid team though he had won national fame as a track coach, he didn't have one problem to face but a bunch of them.

He met the problems one by one and set about to turn out a great Louisiana State machine, as good, if not better, than any that ever wore the Purple and Gold.

But try to get him to say how he did it!

Moore took over the Bayou Tigers after Captain Lawrence M. (Biff) Jones resigned following a tilt with the late Senator Huey P. Long over running the team.

Disappointment over losing both Jones and the all-important Tulane game after a fine year, linked with other things, had the campus stirred up then.

FOND OF COACH.

Moore's first job was to win his men. The Louisiana squad thought highly of Captain "Biff" but was soon also fond of Moore as his successor.

Moore, who had been Jones' chief scout, followed up his personal friendship with the boys and soon had their confidence.

Louisiana State lost very few games under Jones and supporters demanded that they shouldn't lose any under Moore.

That didn't help Bernie's sleep any better, with a hard schedule.

The Louisiana victory over Mississippi State, conquerors of Army, set Moore ac high with L. S. U. followers.

It pushed the 10-0-7 defeat by Rice in the season's opening game into the background, and enthusiasts began arguing again over the Louisiana touchdown play called back in that game that would have meant a winning score.

Moore is as tight as a clam when asked about himself or his team.

"I haven't anything to say," he remarks. "That sort of thing just doesn't do any good."

It's like finding out a lodge secret to learn what he says in the dressing room at half-time.

RETICENT MENTOR.

He usually is quiet on the practice field, but has an Irish temper at times. Whatever his system is, the boys like it. He has continued in principle the Warner style of play that Jones inaugurated at Louisiana State, emphasizing both passes and power.

A native of Winchester, Tenn., Moore served in the World War, was an assistant grid coach at the University of the South (Sewanee), and then head coach at Mercer. He came to L. S. U. as line coach in 1929, and later became track coach, developing a national championship spike team in 1931 and such individual stars as Glenn "Slat" Hardin, and Jack Torrance.

GREY DEVILS FAIL TO HALT JACKET BACKS

Lawrence Hays Stars as Varsity Runs Rough-shod in Skirmish.

By Jack Troy.

The annual track meet at Grant field was staged prematurely yesterday when varsity backs went hopping and racing like fleet gazelles in one of the most impressive scrimmages in many a day.

Running against a Gray Devil team bolstered by several varsity reserves, the regular backs scored eight or nine times on runs anywhere from 80, 90 to 100 yards.

Lawrence Hays made so many long runs for touchdowns that on the very last run he tired after dodging tacklers and near the goal line, decided he couldn't outrun a pursuer and so cut straight across the field. He finally dumped in a member of his interference who had picked him up, and fell on the turf.

It was a veritable track meet, with downfield blocking actually being the best of the year in practice. Sims, Appleby, Beard, Korman, Street and others put on great blocks yesterday. They were the kind of blocks that almost could be heard for blocks. Phil Chance and Carmack blocked splendidly in the line.

"LIGHT HORSE HARRY." After yesterday, they're thinking of naming Appleby "Light Horse Harry." For Appleby truly sold out on a couple of long runs.

John McKinley would sprint out in an open field behind great blocking, and then he would be tackled, dodge another and run to glory. McKinley was exhibiting a change of pace as was a change of pace.

The ends were doing a bit of scoring on the end around also. Oscar Thompson made one run of close to 70 yards. And Hoot Gibson ran like a back in scoring on a shorter run.

The Georgia Techs looked great yesterday. That is, the Jackets looked great against the Gray Devils. Alabama's red and riotous elephants at Birmingham.

There were few passes thrown in the wild scramble for touchdowns. They'd simply snap the ball and the blockers would go into action, followed by the ball carrier. It was good old-fashioned straight football. But, oh, how effective!

Before the backs had really started all the business of scoring on one play no matter what position they occupied on the field. Scappie Edwards had sprinted 50 yards for a score. This was a record for a freshman on the varsity line said: "Wall let's score on one play." He said it with the varsity resting virtually on their heels.

And, believe you me, there was never better blocking or finer running than Lawrence Hays showed when he was tackled in the broken field, cut this way and that and straightened out with that football under his arm. Hays may not be a speed demon, but he really looked like a loaded freight running wild on a steep downhill grade.

BLOCKING. The impression that about yesterday's drill was not so much those bang-bang sprints for touchdowns, but the blocking that backs and linemen were giving the ball carrier.

The Gray Devils simply couldn't attempt to cope with the savage, momentum style of blocking. And this went for downfield blocking as well. Those Jackets are really showing a great spirit. Tough defeats to the contrary. They are ready to play some more good football.

Alabama is a heavy favorite Saturday. But you can't obtain any idea to that effect by watching the Tech boys go to work in scrimmages.

There will be another scrimmage today. Only Charles Preston, regular center, and Bud Lindsay, regular tackle, are being held out of the rough work.

Maximum Salary For Grid Pilots, Dougherty Plan

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 13.—(AP)—A maximum salary for football coaches in the Southeastern and Southern conference was advocated here today by N. W. Dougherty, a chairman of the University of Tennessee athletic council. He indicated it should not be more than $10,000 annually.

His statement followed a published report that Major Robert Neyland, former Tennessee coach, was willing to return as coach of the Volunteers if given a $15,000 a year salary and a five-year contract.

"It is my belief that the Southeastern and Southern conferences would do well to agree on a reasonable maximum salary, like the Western conference, and avoid excessive competition," Dougherty said.

"Most of the great educational institutions," he added, "have been able to get along with coaching talent that can live and be happy on salaries from $5,000 to $10,000 a year."

Dougherty further asserted that "if a football team wins for a couple of seasons, there is such public popularity that the coach can act like a prima-donna, both in temperament and compensation. If he loses a few games, he has to take what he can get."

Dougherty is a former president of the old Southern conference.

COCHRANE SEEN AS SUCCESSOR TO TIGER CHIEF

Some Think Navin Had Mickey in Mind From the First.

DETROIT, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The Detroit Free Press predicted tonight that Gordon S. (Mickey) Cochrane, manager of the world champion Tigers, may succeed Frank J. Navin as president of the club, or be selected to represent the owners.

"Cochrane would seem to be the logical choice," the Free Press said. "As secretary and treasurer of the club, Mr. Navin's nephew, Charles F. Navin, outranks Mickey both in position and experience, but there is some doubt whether he would consent to lead the club. His health has not been of the best and he might not consent to jeopardize it by taking upon himself all the worries of a big league baseball concern."

"Some are inclined to believe that Mr. Navin had him (Cochrane) in mind as his successor when he engaged him to manage the Tigers in the fall of 1933."

END CAREER.

Five Alabama Poly football players will end their home careers in the Tigers' homecoming game with Oglethorpe on Drake field at Auburn Saturday. Seniors on Auburn's current grid squad include Captain Millard Morris, end; Alternate Captain Haygood Patterson, All-American tackle candidate; Collins Fenton, guard; Fred Black, center, and Harry Whitten, halfback, all of whom probably will play against the Petrels.

OPENING FOR REBUTTAL.

"I can understand," writes a Texan who knows his football, "why the west coast doesn't want Southern Methodist for any Rose Bowl game. I saw S. M. U. play U. C. L. A., the team that beat Stanford. U. C. L. A. wasn't even in S. M. U.'s class. I know California won from her Los Angeles brothers, 14 to 0, but California never had the same decided superiority in almost every phase of football that the Texans showed. It was generally admitted by unbiased football judges that neither California nor Stanford could handle these Dallas deviators, with the forwards and the backs they have ready for action."

This leaves a neat opening for rebuttal, if the west coast cares to make one.

Major Bob Neyland pointed out in these dispatches, both Southern Methodist and North Carolina, two leading Rose Bowl challengers, are as strong as any teams in the country.

Both still have strong competitors to the Bowl over. Southern Methodist is handicapped slightly by her Texas A. & M. game December 1, after the Rose Bowl nominations are usually made.

On form shown so far, Southern Methodist has a harder foe in T. C. U. to beat back than Carolina has in Duke. Carolina's position will be much better known after Saturday's mixup with Duke at Durham, which is now stirring up more dust than a cavalcade of elephants could churn from the Tarheel terrain.

If the final choice should fall to North Carolina or Southern Methodist—and Stanford whips California—why not let the Tarheel brigade and the Texans fight it out?

Albany Plans Horse Show Friday

ALBANY, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—A brilliant horse show, in which some of the southeast's most prominent residents will enter, is to be held here Friday night at the city baseball park.

Officials said today entries were already beginning to come in for the show.

John M. Ogden, of Atlanta, and George Doggett, of West Jefferson, N. C., well-known sportsmen, will judge the show. W. C. Holman will be referee.

More than 70 questions from this section have entered the horse show, including:

James Woodruff, B. H. Hardaway, Columbus; Robert Wiggins, Leary, H. R. Ingram, William Israel, L. B. Holloway, Ralph Jenkins, T. N. Wiggins, Edson Tom Palmer, Bennett Butler, Camilla; Mrs. Charles Lanier, Charles Lanier, America; J. W. Horne, William Bibb, Thomasville; Captain J. K. Boyd, Tallahassee; Dr. R. L. Grace, Mrs. F. C. B. Hodges, Lorraine Ferrell. Team from Fort Benning will give jumping exhibition as feature of show, 10 classes including two for children, will offer a variety of entertainment. Show sponsored by recently organized Albany horse show association officers are Hollis Lanier, president; R. F. Paddison, vice president; Harold Weatherbee, secretary; L. R. Ferrell, treasurer.

COLORED TEAMS PLAY SATURDAY

The annual football game between two outstanding city rivals, with long years of athletic relationship behind, will fight it out on the Clark athletic field Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the outstanding game in the Southern Conference this week-end, a game that will most likely determine the city championship if Morehouse wins.

CL-k supporters are rallying behind their team since their strong showing against a strong South Carolina aggregation whom they defeated last week by a score of 2-0. In this game the Panthers showed a stronger offense with more deception. That alone gave them an even chance with the Maroon Tigers, who are at present the only undefeated team in the conference.

Behind locked gates, the Clark coaching staff are working hard to prepare their team for this important game.

Out on the red hills where a proud Maroon Tiger is after the city championship and a conference title as well, this squad is leaving no stone unturned to be at their best.

GEORGIA BOYS.

All except three of the 10 Georgia boys on Alabama Poly's 1935 football squad saw action in the Tigers 33-7 win over Georgia Tech in Atlanta and it is very likely all 10 will be used in their team's homecoming game with Oglethorpe at Auburn Saturday.

Georgia boys in Auburn football line include Fred Black, Frank Gantt, Wesley Loftin, Ralph Sivell, Travis Vernon, Joel Eaves, Sidney Scarborough, Bill Ellis and Norman and Harry Whitten.

SMITHIES HOPE FOR WET FIELD; BEARD RETURNS

Purples Favorite To Win Battle, But Are Not Overconfident.

By Roy White.

Boys' High and Tech High completed their rough work Wednesday afternoon at Piedmont park in preparation for the all-important game Friday night at Grant Field. Both coaches welcomed the first cool snap of the year and took advantage of the opportunity to send the youngsters through one of the hardest workouts of the practice campaigns.

It was the first real workout for both squads since last week and the only one before Friday night's game as today's work will consist of punting, passing and long signal drills in both camps.

There was plenty of fight and spirit in the Wednesday scrimmages, which lasted from early afternoon until dark. And every player on both teams was given ample opportunity both on offense and defense during the afternoon.

BEARD READY.

Roane Beard, the big Boys' High center, was back in uniform Wednesday and took part in a majority of the work. He is eight pounds lighter, following an attack of influenza, but otherwise is okay and ready to go.

Frank Harris, Tech High back, who has been out all season with a bad knee, appears to be the only player on either squad who cannot stand the 60-minute pace.

Coaches Tolbert and Alexander, of Tech High, with a vastly improved squad, are hoping for a wet field Friday night. The Smithies' backfield is considerably heavier than that of Boys' High and with a big line in front, Tech High will fare better with a slow field. "We don't care how wet the field gets, for our heavy backfield will get a break," Coach Tolbert said Wednesday.

DRY FIELD.

Boys' High coaches are hoping for a dry, fast field, for the many forward-laterals and other tricky plays will work better on the dry field. The Purples have not worked either in practice or in a game with a wet, slippery ball and naturally hope for a dry day Friday.

Tickets for the game are on sale at Spalding's on North Broad street, and at Parks Chambers, on Peachtree street. Adult tickets will be $1 with students and ladies' tickets selling for 50 cents.

Boys' High has a chance to win permanent possession of the Dartmouth Alumni trophy, offered some years ago to the high school team winning the state championship three times. Tech High also has two legs on the cup, and will throw caution to the winds Friday in the hopes of springing the year's biggest prep upset.

Prep Elevens Play Friday.

Five other Atlanta prep elevens will be in action Friday, when Commercial battles Red Barron's Monroe Aggies in Monroe, G. M. A. meets Rome High in Rome, Decatur plays Griffin High in a night game in Griffin, and Russell plays at Gainesville.

The Commercial-Monroe battle will be one of the features of the week, and third and possibly second place in the state prep race will be decided.

Commercial defeated Monroe in an upset last year after Barron's more than anxious to avenge that defeat. Monroe is one down in competition with Atlanta teams and would like nothing more than to square accounts at the expense of Commercial Friday afternoon.

DEMPSEY'S EYES ARE EXAMINED

BALTIMORE, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, applied at the Wilmer Institute of the Johns Hopkins hospital today for treatment.

The institute is an eye clinic. Clinicians said Dempsey is the private patient of Dr. Allan Woods and that he is expected to return in about a week for further treatment.

Dempsey stopped in Baltimore en route to New York city from Norfolk, Va.

Dr. Woods' only comment on Dempsey's case was: "He came to see me casually while passing through Baltimore just to have his eyes examined. He was in a bit of a hurry to get to some place in Pennsylvania and I did not have time to finish the examination, so I suggested that he come back."

"There is nothing remarkable about it, one way or the other."

Gridders To Pay To Play a Game

WESTMINSTER, Md., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Western Maryland College football players will pay $2.25 each for the privilege of playing against the University of Maryland in Baltimore stadium December 7.

The post-season game is to raise funds for a field house at the college here. Western Maryland students, instead of being admitted for the customary 55-cent student tickets, will pay $2.25 each. So, the football players joined in the agreement and will pay their own admissions also.

Can't Blame Him For Aiding Foe

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Nov. 13.—(AP)—It happened during the Stanford-U. S. C. game last Saturday.

A play ended with one Southern California player writhing on the ground. Little Jimmy Coffis, Stanford left half, rushed to the Trojan's assistance and busily massaged a cramped leg muscle.

"How come?" demanded a teammate later. "Gee," said Coffis, "I didn't want them to take that fellow out of the game. He was the easiest guy to block I ever ran up against."

Owner of Champion Tigers Dies From Heart Attack

Just six weeks after he had been made supremely happy by his Tigers fulfilling a life-long ambition and winning the world's baseball championship, Frank J. Navin, 64-year-old owner of Detroit team and vice president of the American league, died yesterday as the result of a heart attack. The above photo, one of the last taken of the beloved baseball leader, shows Navin at the left, with K. M. Landis, czar of baseball, in the center, and Manager Mickey Cochrane, of the Tigers, at the right. It is reported even this early after Navin's death that the popular Cochrane will be named president of the Detroit club, or be selected to represent the owners. Landis paid Navin a glowing tribute upon hearing of his sudden death, and expressed deep sorrow over the loss of the departed Tiger owner.

Survey Shows Field Goal Widely Used

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The field goal isn't quite as obsolete an offensive football weapon this season as some old timers, reminiscing over games of yesteryears, would have you believe.

In fact, more than a score of college games have been won by the three points gained through goals from the field. And, a survey reveals, field goals have been quite common in every sector, even though they may not have been the deciding factor in contests.

Stanford's Cardinals, Rose P. w. competitors the past two seasons, apparently are the chief exponents of the field goal now. Fortunate in having an excellent booter in the husky end, Jim (Mook) Moscrop, the big red team can point to three victories gained by this route.

BEST WEAPON. The Cardinals outpointed Santa Clara, 9 to 6, won from Washington, 6 to 0, on a pair of goals and last Saturday finally turned back South- ern California, 9 to 0, as Monk kicked one in the last 40 seconds.

The Ramblers of Notre Dame needed a place kick by Marty Peters to whip the Panthers, 9 to 6, a few weeks ago.

FIELD GOAL VICTORY. Rice, in its opening game, downed Louisiana State, 10 to 7, with a field goal. The Louisiana State haven't been beaten since.

One of the early season jolts came to Kansas State when little F. Hays Teachers scored a field goal to win. All of Colgate's sleight-of-hand forwards and laterals couldn't match the field goal Holy Cross made to win, 3 to 0.

Captain Lawrence (Biff) Jones, beginning a new coaching job at Oklahoma, was happy to have the field goal that enabled his Sooners to drop Colorado.

Last Saturday Illinois, expected to lose to an up-and-comer, Michigan team, turned in some sort of a surprise by that slender margin of the field goal.

Emory Seniors Win Over Frosh, 19-14

Emory's freshmen football team Wednesday gave the powerful senior aggregation all they could stand in losing a 19-14 verdict to the team that was hoped to beat them by at least two touchdowns.

The frosh pushed over a marker in the first quarter with Hubbell carrying the ball over and made the extra point good.

But the seniors rallied behind the great work of Conyers and pushed over two tallies in the second period and insured their lead with another tally in the third period.

The freshmen's last score came in the fourth period with Rolleston passing to the seniors for the score.

Conyers, Mathews and Flournoy stood out for the seniors with Hubbell and Rolleston playing well for the frosh.

FINE MATERIAL.

There doesn't seem to be any reason for Detroit's old grads worrying about next year's team. The Titans lose seven varsity players by graduation, but Eddie Barbour, freshman coach, says he considers 27 of his yearlings as possible varsity material.

The Red and Blue had a busy session as the coaches strove to rush defense plans for Centre. The practice Thursday will close preparations for the Praying Colonels as the team will begin the trip to Danville, Ky., after the workout.

KUNES AND METZ GOLF WINNERS AT PINEHURST

Canadian Open Champ, Chicagoan Rally To Land Prize.

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 13.—(AP) Gene Kunes, the Canadian open golf champion, and Dick Metz, of Chicago, staged a rousing finish today to land the $400 first money in the midsouth professional best ball tournament with a score of 137 for the 36 holes.

Needing a birdie and a par on the last two holes to beat out Tommy Armour and Bobby Cruikshank, who were already in with 138, the Kunes-Metz combination came through with a stout-hearted exhibition of skill.

Kunes laid his tee shot on the short 17th within 10 feet of the cup and trickled in the downhill putt for a deuce. He had delivered and his partner came through in the pinch at the 18th. Kunes was out of it and Metz's second was in a trap to the right of the green. The Chicagoan blasted out, however, to within eight feet of the hole and rapidly downed the putt for the par four that meant first money.

Willie Klein, Wheatley Hills, L. I., and Jimmie Hines, Garden City, L. I., who stuck in a finish 65 on the first day, faded today to a 74, but got third place with a total of 139. Kunes and Metz shot a 69 and 68, while Armour and Cruikshank had a pair of 69's. Second place money was worth $300 and third $160.

Ralph Minor, New Bern, N. C., and Palmer Maples, Rocky Mount, N. C., tied for fourth place at 141 with Jack Bulla, Joliet, Ill., and Benny Loving, Charlottesville, Va. They shared fourth and fifth money of $120 and $100, respectively.

Today's play wound up the best ball event, but tomorrow and Friday there will be a 36-hole individual open for a total of $1,065 in prize money. First prize is $250.

There were many spectacular shots and lengthy putts. John Golden, Norton, Conn., bagged the first four of the tournament on the 558-yard 10th by sinking an 80-yard chip. Armour holed a 50-foot putt at the ninth and sank a chip shot at the 11th.

DUKE STUDENTS 'BURN' N. Y. SCRIBE

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 13.—(UP) Dan Parker, sports columnist on a New York morning newspaper, was burned in effigy on the campus of Duke University here tonight.

The student demonstration was caused by statements carried in a recent column by Parker in the New York Mirror.

The article, which was reprinted by the Duke Chronicle, student paper, was carried under the title, "North Carolina Burns Up Duke."

"It galls them," the reprint of the article in the Chronicle said, "to think that North Carolina University was offered money by James Duke and turned it down. The poor stepchild that can offer no inducement to football players and had to cut the salaries of its professors 20 per cent in two years, has been the recipient of the poorest kind of go-go eyes from the Rose Bowl committee, while the verdict on Duke is halitosis."

an assassin's gun some months ago, had planned to bring all the students to Athens for this game.

He took them to Nashville a year ago. When the railroads refused special rates of almost nothing at all for a trip to Nashville, the Kingfish got them just the same and then stood on the platform and loaned each student his fare, taking a written I. O. U. for the money. To the credit of the L. S. U. students it must be said they redeemed them all.

This year Governor O. K. Allen, whom Huey Long had elected governor, is going to ride with the boys to Athens. There will be 1,800 of them including a band of 165 pieces. That was the band in front of which the late senator liked to parade.

There will be a drill by the cadets, the entire 1,800 of them before the game. The public will do well to come to this game early. It's going to be a real show.

THE AMBIDEXTROUS MR. MARTIN.

Mr. Charley Martin, the director of tickets, was found giving one of his ambidextrous demonstrations. He was selling tickets to the L. S. U. game with one hand and tickets to the Auburn game with the other.

There are good tickets left. There will be some here Saturday for the late arrivals. But the earlier one buys the better.

It looks very much as if there will be a sellout here and at Columbus for the Auburn game. Thank you, Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt. When 25,000 people have $2.50 each for a football game it means we are on the way out.

THE TENDER EMOTION.

In addition to the problem of the game, Mr. Harry Mehre discovered today that the tender emotion had found its way into his home.

His small son Harry came home today without his Red Cross button. Young Harry is a bit over five years old.

"Catherine lost her button and I gave her mine," said five-year-old Mister Mehre.

"What did Catherine say?" asked Mehre Sr. "She said," said young Mehre, blushing furiously, "Harry, you are the sweetest boy in the world."

Catherine, it develops, also is five years old. "Well," said Mr. Mehre, "can you beat that? The L. S. U. game just a few days away and your son comes home with a romance."

Down the Alleys

The Coca-Cola Company will have its 12-team league active on the maples lanes in the third week of scheduled competition this afternoon at 4:45 o'clock at Rick's Bowling Center.

With two men and two ladies making up the roster of each of the team, and with the teams well balanced on average, real competition and close scores prevail each week.

Some of the bowlers in this big league who are building up big averages and adding their teams considerably are Oscar Davis, Warren Drummond, Hilda Barnette, Laura Chapman, Delaney Riedge, Sam Foster, Gladys Bridges, Thelma Hall, Joe Hightower, J. H. Gibson, Lois Jones, Lydia Hollinshead, Warren Foster, Paul Hardin, Louis Thomas, Catherine Campbell, Ed Lyon, A. B. Carter, Betty Myers, Grace Taylor, M. C. Allen, Walter Scarborough, Lucille Huffman, Hattie England.

With Hunter Bell, W. F. Crowell, Eddie Young, Eleanor Braxwell, S. M. Hall, George Keene, R. Lunsford, Dorothy Adams, Marya Bryant, Dan Dozier, Billa Pearson, Geraldine Chapman, Roy Walker, Mary Nash, Nancy Bell, H. E. Smith, Harold Sharp, Roger Donaldson, Lucille Thompson, Mrs. Hamilton, Bob Harrell, W. A. Lee, Rosalee Smith, Francis Farmer, clipping the wood for big scores.

The Business Men's league, the fast Wednesday night little pin circuit, is a real barometer of better scores and higher averages this season. No one has more than 123, not including fractions, and some of the others are Walter Lawson, 119; Alan Lohr, 111; F. E. Hockley, 109; C. W. Mack Kay, 132; H. E. Parker, 100; H. Elmer, 102; H. Cavan, 120; G. L. Bushong, 111; W. James, 101; R. G. Gledhill, 100; W. H. Bruce, 106; W. M. Carson, 105; C. W. Dennis, 104; G. P. McElroy, 104; A. L. Stokes, 111; G. B. Hester, 112; P. S. Denison, 106; G. H. Taylor, 100; W. L. Payne, 103; H. C. Brown, 108; J. Owens, 104; J. D. Outler, 115; T. P. Talley, 100; Bill McAdams, 118; D. P. Brown, 108; J. R. Bickel, 101; G. L. 113; Joe Dyer, 100; Lindy Jastlin, 105; L. Whitman, 103; A. Christy, 104; Carl Tidwell, 118; J. T. Graham, 102.

The Saturday night duckpin tournament and mixed double continue to draw record entry lists. No entry fee other than the cost of the games bowled is charged in either event, with three games being bowled in the mixed event and five in the singles. The tournaments and mixed doubles is open to all bowlers in the city.

The Ladies' Continental league is showing a trend upward in the averages of many of its players this season and the scoring of the teams is better balanced than in any previous year, from a look at the score sheets showing game results.

Gertrude Whitney has the high single game of the league, 133, and Reba Bancroft took the three-game title with 235. In average Miss Bancroft, of Atlanta, has won the title for the 21 games, while Carl Tidwell, of Model Landers, is runner-up with 106 for 21 games.

Mary Peterson is high in Rick's Bowling Center with 97.4. Maria Burns took Pinkie Tint Company with 50.17, Evelyn Davis, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Towles are high on the Anderson's Flower Shop team. Helen Nodie is high for the John H. Smith, and James is high for Gaylord Container. Gertrude Whitney has 57.4 to lead Claude S. Bennett.

Cabin, of Gulf Bridge, was high for Gulf Refining Company league, however, with a three-game set of 338, sliding his team to a three-game win over No. Nox.

Johnny Layton Loser, Title Chances Fade

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Dreams of retaining his world's three cushion billiard championship all but vanished for Johnny Layton, the red-headed ex-carpenter, of Sedalia, Mo., today.

Layton was beaten, 50 to 41, in 35 innings by Allen Hall, of St. Louis, which dropped him into seventh place in the standings. Hall, a former pupil of Layton's, handed the present champion his third defeat in five starts, and enabled him to score his second victory in six games. Layton had four more games to play, but a player who loses three games has very little chance of winding up at the top.

BOBBY WILSON, OF S. M. U., BIDS FOR GRID FAME

Berwanger, Fatherree Are Among Aces Mentioned for All-American.

By Allan Gould.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The All-American football roll call this week features the qualifications of Chicago's great Jay Berwanger and Southern Methodist's "Fighting Atom," Bobby Wilson, for the halfback positions.

There's well-grounded conviction in the Big Ten that Berwanger is the All-American halfback this year, all by himself. However, that may be, no question of the "Flying Dutchman's" ability remains after his spectacular performance against Ohio State. Berwanger, a quintuple threat, was the outstanding back on an ordinary team last year. This is his last season. The critics say he's better than ever in every department of play, including ball-juggling, kicking, passing, blocking and tackling. Apparently the only thing he doesn't do for the Maroon is the accordion.

COAST GETS EYEFUL.

With Notre Dame's sensational Andy Flannery on the sidelines and apparently out for the rest of the season, Wilson is now leading a flock of backfield stars for the No. 2 halfback spot. This 150-pound ball-carrier has had the benefit of superb blocking assistance, especially from fullback Harry Shuford, powerhouse of the S. M. U. backfield, but coast critics got an eyeful of Wilson's game with U. C. L. A. this Monday.

"Wilson looks like the best All-American I've seen in years," report Los Angeles scouts. "He can pass as well as Dixie Howell, Alabama's Rose Bowl hero, and is better in a broken field. Wilson outscored Chuck Chesire, U. C. L. A. star. Harry Shuford compares with Bobby Grayson, Stanford's 1934 All-American, and the coast's outstanding back again.

Other backs mentioned prominently in this week's roll call, including several repeaters, are Bill Lam, rated the best running back in the Rocky Mountain conference and a star of the Colorado University upset triumph over Utah Saturday; Kent Ryan, Utah State, a fine all-around performer; Don Hines, Notre Dame, who exploits helped upset Notre Dame; Don Jackson, ace of the North Carolina scoring juggernaut; Paul Pank and Jack White, Princeton's flashy halfback; Floyd Blower, California; Jess Fatterree, Louisiana State; Bill Wallace and John McCauley, Rice's "touchdown twins." Art Bivard, Marquette; Yanni Albanese, Syracuse ace who scored all his team's points against Columbia; Jack Schmidt, Navy, and Lloyd Cardwell, Nebraska.

TEXAS CONFIDENCE.

Enthusiasts in the Southwest conference, which include three of the nation's top-ranking teams in Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Rice, believe their all-star offerings would give them the best combination for any other major section could put together. They may be right, at that. Texas has at least two prime All-American candidates for the line, Captain Darlene Lester, giant center at F. C. U., and a 1934 all-star choice, and Truman Spain, S. M. U. tackle.

Two outstanding forwards added to the service's All-American list are Fred Ritter, a tackle, and Northwestern's Paul Tangora, a running guard who helped raise havoc with Notre Dame's defense. Both were good enough last Saturday to take the headlines.

Further endorsements are in hand for the performances of Larry Lutz, California tackle; Eddie Gryboski, Illinois guard; Ed Wiselheit and Dick Smith, Minnesota tackles; Alex Drobnitz, Denver guard; Sidney Wagner, Michigan State guard; Haygood Patterson, Auburn tackle; Center, who caught the eye of observers included Lind, of Northwestern; Cullinan, of Princeton, and Chavoor, of U. C. L. A.

MOSCIP CAN K. K. K.

According to our west coast observers, Monk Moscip, of Stanford, except for his goal-kicking, cannot be rated any higher at end than his teammate, Topping, or Jack Brittingham, California tackle; Eddie Gryboski, Illinois guard; Ed Wiselheit and Dick Smith, Minnesota tackles; Alex Drobnitz, Denver guard; Sidney Wagner, Michigan State guard; Haygood Patterson, Auburn tackle; Center, who caught the eye of observers included Lind, of Northwestern; Cullinan, of Princeton, and Chavoor, of U. C. L. A.

Playing on a losing team, Johnny Layton, captain and star of the University of Virginia, has given a whole of a performance all season. The week's roll call also adds several other ends to the list, including Gannett Tinsley, Louisiana State; Henry Longworth, Northwestern; Bernard Scherer, Nebraska, the best in the Big Six, and Earl Wray, Baylor. Walter Wilkins, of Rutgers, once broke the previous top-notch record as perhaps the east's outstanding wingman.

Tony Drexel IV and Charles King Jr. To Be Christened at Double Service

By Sally Forth.

UNUSUAL sentiment is attached to the double service at which Anthony Drexel IV and Charles King Jr. will be christened tomorrow morning at St. Luke's Episcopal church at 11:30 o'clock. Their mothers, Emily King and Helen Howard Drexel, are lifelong friends and it was for this reason they decided to have their little sons christened at the same time. In further appreciation for each other's friendship, mothers of the children will each assume the vows of godmother for each other's son.

Little Anthony Drexel, who is the fourth member of his father's family to bear this distinguished name, is the 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Drexel III. His maternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Clinton Howard, of this city. Little Tony, as he is affectionately called, will wear for this auspicious occasion a French handmade suit of flesh-tinted crepe trimmed with real lace collar, a gift from his grandmother, Mrs. Anthony Drexel, of Philadelphia. Betty Collins, who makes her home in far away Nassau, and who introduced Tony's parents to each other, will also be named as the little boy's godmother, and his paternal uncle, Henry S. Cram, of New York, and Bluffton, S. C., has been chosen for his godfather. Dr. John M. Walker, rector of St. Luke's, will christen the Drexel baby and Dean Raymond de Oviols, of the Pro-cathedral, will officiate at little Charles King's christening.

Baby King's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles King, of this city. King, the baby's uncle, will take the vows of godfather at the same time that Helen Drexel accepts the duties as godmother for little Charles King. Baby King, who arrived on this hemisphere only five months ago, will be dressed in the daintiest of batiste frocks for his christening. The dress, which is of the long dress style, is a gift from his grandmother, Mrs. King, and is trimmed with tiny handmade tucks and real lace. The Drexels and Kings have invited their close friends to be present Friday morning at the christening of their sons. With them Sally adds her congratulations to the young parents as well as her blessings upon the young sons.

RUMOR has it that a romance is brewing between an erstwhile Atlantan and a young lieutenant in the air corps of the United States navy. In fact, Sally hears that the wedding is scheduled for late in December and will take place at the Peachtree road residence of the bride-elect's grandparents. After their marriage the young couple journey to Alaska where Lieutenant Blank will report for duty.

Lieutenant Blank is a native of Philadelphia, and is detailed in San Diego, Cal. His charming bride-elect is pretty and attractive, and appeared in several successful moving pictures when she resided in Hollywood with her parents. She took part in one of Bing Crosby's films, and all of Atlanta turned out to see her on the silver screen when the movie was produced here. The bride-elect attended Washington Seminary and finished her education at a convent in Washington, D. C.

WHEN Mrs. Berry Mobley and her attractive subde daughter, Emily, moved into their new home in the Biltmore apartments, it took Emily quite a while to catch on to the "ropes" of apartment house living, and become accustomed to her new surroundings. In fact, everything was so new to her that she had the novel experience of being locked out of her own home the first evening she was there.

Emily and Cal Voorhis returned from a dance at the Theta house in the rather wee hours, only to find that the entrance doors to the apartment were securely fastened. They rapped, then knocked upon the massive doors, but not even a slight stirring answered their hurried beats. So they decided to make the best of a bad bargain and comfortably settled themselves upon the stone steps to patiently await the advent of some kind rescuer.

After so long a time, however, Emily became worried. Besides those granite steps were cold and were beginning to feel as hard as a mortgage-holder's heart. So they frantically began rapping in earnest. Finally, to their great relief, a kind-hearted gentleman on one of the upper floors, who was, no doubt, suffering from insomnia, came down and ushered them in.

The morning after the unusual occurrence, as Emily and Mrs. Mobley were leaving the apartment, Emily unfolded her tale of woe. "What in the world could we do?" she asked. "Well," her mother remarked, "Did you ever think of ringing the doorbell?" She was forced to admit with great embarrassment that she hadn't thought of that.

For Mrs. Jewett.

The 1935 Matrons' Club, O. E. S., will sponsor a banquet honoring Mrs. Marcia Jewett, worthy grand matron and other grand officers of the grand chapter of Georgia on November 16 at 7 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic Club. This is an annual event to which Eastern Stars and their friends are invited. Please make reservations through the worthy matrons of the various chapters of Mrs. Jewett, Mrs. Main 7502; Mrs. Alice Driggers, Raymond 5378, or Mrs. Annie Zimmerman, Dearborn 5195-W.

East Lake P-T. A.

Daddies will be honor guests at East Lake P-T. A. meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, with Mrs. F. L. Brittain presiding. Dr. Willis A. Sutton will speak on "The Present-Day Home for the Present-Day Child." Mrs. Sam Cole will conduct the mothers' chorus in two numbers. The executive committee of East Lake P-T. A. meets Monday at 10 o'clock.

Wesleyan Group No. 1.

Group No. 1 of Wesleyan College Alumnae Club will meet with Mrs. Harvie Jordan, Henry Grady hotel, on Friday at 3 o'clock. A program on "Current Events" will follow the business program. Alumnae who attended Wesleyan College prior to 1900 are invited to attend and join this group.

Richardson P-T. A. Sponsors Revue Friday Evening

Alonso Richardson P-T. A. will sponsor a "1935 Revue," given by pupils from expression, dancing and music classes of Manora Conley Brown, Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The program will be given in Young auditorium. Mrs. C. E. Slaten, chairman of finance, and her committee, assisted by the grade mothers, will have charge of the tickets.

Forty children will take part between the ages of 2-12 and 15 years. Songs, plays, dances, readings and piano numbers will complete the program. Each number has been especially costumed and the group numbers are elaborate. A prize has been offered to the room and the child selling the most tickets.

Children taking part are Helen Longino, Sue Allman, Virginia Faulkner, Carmen Proctor, Carolyn Proctor, Ann Hemperly, Carol Jean Allen, Patsey Douglas, Barbara Terrell, Lucy Clare McCall, Betty Burns, Nora Lou Hart, Elizabeth Sparks, Beth Boggs, Mary Helen Hodges, Evelyn Croley, Elena Wells, Meryl Lee, Ann Largent, Betty Lasek, Julia Flynn, Harriet Brooks, Betty Jane Terrell, Louise Jackson, Catherine Berry, Barbara Berry, Barbara Durant, Elbert Upshaw, Billy Miller, Harry Miller, Ramsey Buice, Kathryn Webb, Ruby Patton, Charlotte Fincher, Mildred Parker, Betty Jane Payne, Joe Conley, Bernice Flowers, Bebe Payne, Gillys, Mary Elizabeth Smith, Agnes Harbin, Dorothy Dean and Pat Pagett. Mrs. D. M. Berry will be the accompanist.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Will Be Complimented.

Mr. and Mrs. Roby Robinson Jr., whose marriage was an interesting event of last week in New York, are providing the inspiration for a series of parties. On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Tompkins, brother and sister of Mr. Robinson, entertain at dinner at their Wesley road residence for the popular newlyweds.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Witham will compliment Mr. and Mrs. Robinson at a dinner party on Saturday evening, November 23, at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Dr. and Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun will be hosts at a party on November 23, in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, who will be feted at other social affairs.

Misses Lucas, Smith Are Honor Guests.

Mrs. George Kearsley Selden and her daughter, Miss Caroline Selden, were hostesses at a beautifully appointed tea given yesterday at their home on Walker road in compliment to a pair of popular brides-elect, Miss Jean Lucas and Miss Laura Payne Smith.

Pink roses and white pom-pom chrysanthemums in charming arrangement centered the tea table. Mrs. Allison Thornwell and Mrs. Robert Wootley poured tea and coffee.

Assisting the hostesses in entertaining were Mesdames Alex Smith Jr., Arthur Lucas, Anita Stewart Armstrong and Miss Anita Champion, of Albany. Invited to meet the honor guests were members of their wedding parties and out-of-town guests who have arrived for the weddings.

Miss Lucas was again central figure yesterday when Mrs. Errol Hay and Mrs. James Campbell entertained at luncheon at the home of the former on Brighton road.

Assisting in entertaining were Mesdames Arthur Lucas, J. W. Goldsmith and Miss Willa Cunningham, of Washington, D. C.

The guests included Miss Lucas, Mesdames Arthur Lucas, Wickliff Goldsmith, James D. Robinson Jr., Malon Courts, Albert Lewis, F. M. Bird, Misses Willa Cunningham and Jane Cunningham, of Washington; Rosalind Verren, of Moultrie; Caroline Selden, Ida Sadler and the hostess.

Mrs. Forrest Kibler Makes Statement

Mrs. Forrest Kibler, president of Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., states that the crosses of military service have been awarded on Armistice Day to World War veterans, lineal descendants of Confederate soldiers will be awarded on November 26, at 2:30 o'clock, at the chapter house at 826 Juniper street, N. E. The crosses did not arrive in time for the arrangement of a program for Armistice Day. The World War veterans to receive this decoration are: Howard Lester Anglin, Robert E. Bell, Charles P. Bell, Elmo Bell, Buel M. Crawley, Roy L. Crawley, William Felts McConnell (deceased), John Brandon Peters, Albert R. Rousey and Nelson W. Williams.

Mrs. Alva D. Kiser, recorder of crosses for the chapter, with Mrs. W. E. Beckham, as chairman of commemorative days and Mrs. C. E. Barber, chairman of music, will have charge of the program. Miss Martha Carmichael, senior at Oglethorpe and former member of Julia Jackson C. of C., has been appointed by Mrs. T. W. Reed as one of Georgia's two pages for the general convention in Hot Springs, beginning November 19. She is the daughter of Mrs. W. M. Carmichael, chairman of marking historic spots.

Mrs. Kibler received a letter from the White House acknowledging receipt of a letter of November 1, sent President Roosevelt from the chapter. The letter states that President Roosevelt "wants you to know that the expressions of confidence and support contained in the resolution adopted by your chapter have made him very happy." There will be a called meeting of the chapter on Friday at 3 o'clock. The board meeting will be held Tuesday, November 19, at 10:30 o'clock, and Mrs. W. F. Dykes, the chairman, will preside.

Miss Mildred Kelly Receives Appointment.

The health education department of the Y. W. C. A. announces that Miss Mildred Kelly, of Atlanta, former director of physical education at the Y. W. C. A. in Knoxville and Asheville, is appointed assistant director in charge of the swimming pool, succeeding Mrs. C. B. Drummond. Board of directors, health education committee, staff and friends regret that Mrs. Drummond has resigned from the staff in order to give more time to her home and music.

Miss Kelly, who directed health education at Sacred Heart Parochial school in 1933, comes highly recommended from national Y. W. C. A. personnel bureau, and by the local committees and board. She is a graduate of Central School of Hygiene and Physical Education in New York; has done special work in education at New York University and at present is studying at Oglethorpe. For the past nine years she has enjoyed Camp Highland, as camper, junior counselor, swimming instructor and has a wide acquaintance in Atlanta who will welcome her to this new position.

Swimming classes are held morning, afternoon and evening, with special dip periods for high school groups, mothers and children and club girls. The regular adult dip periods are from 11 to 1 and 4:30 to 6:30 daily, except Saturday, when there is a tip dip from 1:30 to 2:30.

Miss Riley and Dr. Boland Jr. Given Brilliant Party at Driving Club

Brilliant in every detail was the elaborate buffet supper given last evening by Dr. and Mrs. Frank Kells Boland at the Piedmont Driving Club honoring Miss Octavia Riley and their son, Dr. Kells Boland Jr., whose marriage will be an outstanding social event of this evening. The affair followed the wedding rehearsal at the First Presbyterian church and assembled members of the wedding party, the two families and the out-of-town guests.

The receiving line, formed in the reception hall of the club, included the hosts, Mrs. James L. Riley, mother of the bride-elect; Miss Kells Boland and James L. Riley Jr., brother of the bride-elect. The entire room was decorated with garlands of smilax, and forming an effective background for the receiving line were stately palms and tall baskets filled with white chrysanthemums.

An alabaster urn filled with pink chrysanthemums beautified the table in the room, and was reflected in the mirror on the wall. Flanking the entrance to the dining room were white urns filled with white chrysanthemums. In each corner of the smaller dining room where the punch was served, were banks of palms. The punch tables were decorated with trailing smilax and the crystal bowls were placed in a mound of variegated garden flowers.

The buffet table was exquisite in detail and was offset by a large blue vase filled with pink roses and white bouvardia. At either end of the table were white marble urns filled with pink chrysanthemums, and smilax adorned the top and side of the table. Garlands of smilax decorated the mantle upon which was placed a vase of pink roses and white bouvardia. On the serving table were baskets holding pink roses and white bouvardia, and stately palms were arranged in each corner of the room.

Mrs. Boland was handsomely gowned in plum-colored velvet and completing her costume was a shoulder bouquet of deep purple orchids. Mrs. Riley wore a stunning model of garnet satin made along straight lines and a shoulder spray of white orchids. Miss Riley was beautifully gowned in silver lame model and her flowers were deep purple orchids.

Members of the wedding party included: Dr. Joe B. Boland, of New York, brother of the prospective groom; Misses Anne Alston, Louise Richardson, Louise Robert, Laura Troutman, Doss Smith, Mary Ann Carr, Mesdames Carol Latimer Jr., J. P. Allen Jr., and Norfleet Turner, of Memphis, Tenn., and the groomsmen who are Malon Courts, William Nixon, Dr. William Minnich, Dr. Stephen Barnett Jr., Dr. William B. Armstrong, W. A. Ward Jr., Martin Kilpatrick, Bryan Grant Jr., and the ushers, including Vaughn Nixon, Mitchell King, Alex Smith Jr., Dr. W. F. Shallenberger, Dr. C. W. Strickland, Dr. James Edgar Paulin, Evelyn Harris, Robert Edgar Smythe, Philip Alston and Dr. Phinizy Calhoun.

Out-of-town guests include Mrs. Wilson Norfleet Felder, of Greenwich, Conn.; Mrs. George Cronkite, Mr. and Mrs. Norfleet Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ragland, Mrs. Ada Norfleet Fuller, Vance Norfleet, Miss Marguerite Searcy, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Norfleet, all of Memphis, and Frank C. Rand, of St. Louis.

Miss Bennett Weds Mr. Watts in Moultrie.

MOULTRIE, Ga., Nov. 13.—The marriage of Miss Katherine Frances Bennett to Paul Edward Watts was solemnized at the home of the bride on South Main street Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock with Rev. W. A. Kelley, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating in the presence of the families and friends. Miss Miriam Trimble, well-known pianist, rendered the musical program.

Ushers were George Kirkland and Fred Beatty who lighted the tapers. Miss Margaret Bennett, sister of the bride, and her only attendant, wore a handsome gown of champagne crushed velvet, and her flowers were bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

The lovely bride entered with her father, Dr. W. L. Bennett, who gave her in marriage, and they were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Burgess Stone. She wore a gown of white satin molded to her figure in graceful lines and ending in a fan-shaped train. The full sleeves were caught with tight cuffs trimmed with buttons. Covered satin buttons trimmed the back of the bodice, and she wore a veil of illusion tulle, shrouded with orange blossoms that fell in long folds. The face of the bride was radiant and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

Dr. and Mrs. Bennett entertained at a reception after the ceremony for the bridal party, out-of-town guests and other guests. Mesdames C. O. Smith and G. L. Doster poured coffee and others assisting were Misses Hazel Austin, Harriet Tison, Mesdames T. P. Tison, Linnie Drawdy, J. B. Sirmans, Misses Anne Redding and Peg Smith, of Atlanta; Marion Peacock, Virginia Peacock and Laura Lundy, of Thomsville. Miss Hazel Austin kept the bride's book and guests were met at the door by Mesdames Frank Norman and Cliff Ingram.

Mr. and Mrs. Watts left for a wedding trip to New Orleans. The bride wore for traveling gray wool dress with green velvet cowl neckline and a matching fur trimmed coat. Her accessories were in blending shades and completing her costume was a corsage of gardenias.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pressley, Mrs. J. P. Redding, Miss Anne Redding, Miss Peg Smith, all of Atlanta; Lewis Jones Jr., of Molena; J. B. Fordham, of Oglethorpe; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ottwell, of Cumming; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McLean, of Bainbridge; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bacon, of Doerun; Lieutenant Plato S. Rhyme, of Fort Benning; Misses Marion Peacock, Virginia Peacock, Jewel Haystack, Laura Lundy, Lillian Roselle, Estelle Shipman, Charlotte Shultz, Iona Dusterhoff, Mrs. Jennie Garrard and Burgess Stone, all of Thomsville.

FALLING TEMPERATURE FORECAST FOR TODAY

Atlanta's unprecedented November rains are over temporarily, but colder weather is to follow in their wake. Forecaster George W. Mindling said yesterday as he reported 3.58 inches of rainfall in the 24 hours ending at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

"The temperatures are headed downward and the winds probably will continue," the observer said. "Tomorrow's low will be around 42 degrees while the midday high will not be above 62 degrees and may be only 60."

The clear skies which brought some cheer yesterday will remain today, the meteorologist said. The observer said that the rains Tuesday and Tuesday night were general over the state and that some sections, particularly south Georgia, reported vast improvement to late crops as the result.

DR. NELSON RENAMED MISS. BAPTIST HEAD

MERIDIAN, Miss., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Dr. D. M. Nelson, Clinton, president of Mississippi College, today was re-elected president of the Mississippi Baptist State convention.

Dr. F. M. Purser, of Oxford, and Dr. Forrest Cooper, of Indianola, were elected vice presidents, and Rev. Walton E. Lee, of Como, secretary.

Dr. P. I. Lipsey, Jackson, chairman of the committee on prohibition, urged retention of the church policy toward prohibition and announced plans to present a bill at the next session of the state legislature prohibiting the sale of wine and beer.

3 MEN ARE CONVICTED IN SLAYING OF NEGRO

Miss Claudia Smaw To Be Honor Guest.

Miss Claudia Smaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smaw, and one of the popular members of the debutante contingent, continues to be honored at a series of lovely parties. On November 17, Mrs. E. A. Cronheim will be hostess at her home on Madison drive, at a cocktail party complementing Miss Smaw.

Mrs. E. Raymond Johnson will entertain at a tea on November 22, at which Miss Smaw will be the central figure, and on December 17, Mrs. Paul Seydel will be hostess at a cocktail party in her honor. Many other parties are being planned for the popular debutante, the dates to be announced later.

Culbertson on Contract

By ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

In Which I Lose a Hat.

My sense of outrage at seeing a bridge hand horribly abused is similar to the fury we feel when we see a horse being beaten. To me there is something sordid about cards, and this feeling is strengthened by the conviction, based on long experience, that they reward and punish players they esteem or despise.

I suppose it is only natural, holding this theory, that I receive a few rude shocks now and then. And I can remember none so rude as when I "kibitzed" an intimate friend (and supposed disciple) not long ago. I might say, by way of preface, that this particular friend is the most obstinate, perverse, self-opinionated person I know (except, of course, myself). "I should have known better than to accept his invitation to 'kibitz' and criticize his play."

The first hand made me feel that justice had departed this life.

Neither side vulnerable.

Constitution Car To Lead Big Motorcade Tomorrow

The Constitution roving Oldsmobile which will be the advance car for the big Atlanta-Macon-Dublin-Savannah motorcade which will run tomorrow. This car will travel 30 minutes ahead of the main motorcade so that participants joining the line en route will be ready to swing into place without delay. Shown above are, left to right, Jack Strouss, secretary Atlanta Motor Club; M. A. Chapman, mayor of Dublin, and John Morris, secretary, Macon Chamber of Commerce. Mayor Chapman is pointing out beautiful Stubbs park, in Dublin, where the midday barbecue will be served all 'cadars. Staff photo.

Historic De Soto Hotel Will Be 'Cade Headquarters

Aerial view of the De Soto hotel at Savannah, headquarters in that city for the motorcade party which will drive from Atlanta to Savannah tomorrow. Much of the elaborate two-day program arranged for the 'cadars in Savannah will center around this famous old hostelry. The view above shows the great size of the hotel. In the center foreground is the beautiful tropical garden and swimming pools.

Business Study Class.

In answer to a growing demand, the Atlanta League of Women Voters started a business women's study class under the auspices of the department of government and education, as announced by Mrs. Paul Ackery, director of group meetings. The first meeting of the class was held at 7 o'clock at league headquarters, 312 Forsyth building.

Mrs. Robert Church will give a review of Emil Lengyel's book, "The New Deal in Europe." After the program plans will be completed for a supervised course of study for the group.

Lillian Mae Patterns

My friend glanced at the dummy only cursorily, and after winning the club lead, promptly ruffed his losing club with the spade queen. He returned to his hand with the diamond ace and played his ace and king of trumps, accepting as quite normal the drop of West's jack and nine. He drew the remaining trumps and discarded his losing diamond on dummy's fourth heart, after which he spread his hand, leering at me like a fiend!

I nearly foamed at the mouth! The consummate ace had bid the hand like a moron and played it like an idiot, and his was the only play which could succeed against the astonishing adverse lay of cards.

"Not a bad start," he chortled. "A grand slam and a new hat!"

I said nothing at all. The cards were already being dealt for a hand that I shall tell you about tomorrow.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: What is a trump echo?

Answer: A trump echo is a method of play used by a defender to show an original holding of three (or more) trumps. Following to the first trump lead, or in ruffing, the second lowest trump is played, and to the second lead, the lowest. A count of the trump suit may be vital to partner.

KINGSFORD-SMITH HUNT "HOPELESS"

Leading Searcher, Reported Missing, Makes Forced Landing.

SINGAPORE, STRAITS SETTLEMENTS, Nov. 13.—(AP)—C. James Kingsford-Smith, Australian pilot reported missing during a search for Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, made a forced landing today on a beach near Parkto, Siam, because of engine trouble.

Melrose has led the search for Sir Charles and Tom Pethybridge since their plane disappeared Friday in a monsoon over the Bay of Bengal.

The search for the England-to-Australia fliers was reported "virtually hopeless."

AUSTRALIA OFFERS FUNDS FOR SEARCH

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The commonwealth government today offered 1,000 pounds (about $5,000) toward the cost of sending a searching plane for Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith and Tom Pethybridge, England-to-Australia fliers missing since last Friday.

The New South Wales government offered an additional 500 pounds (about $2,500).

CAPTAINSMiss Frances Ezell
Weds Lucius Harris
In Nashville, Tenn.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 13.—The marriage of Miss Frances Reynolds Ezell, of Nashville, to Lucius John Harris, of Old Hickory, Tenn., formerly of Atlanta, took place Saturday afternoon at the Price Memorial church in Nashville. Rev. G. L. Wells officiated in the presence of relatives and friends.

The church was decorated with greenery and bronze chrysanthemums, the altar holding a central arrangement of similar flowers, flanked by seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers.

Ushers were Marion Steele, James McEachern and Charles Fogg, of Old Hickory; Elmer Jones, of Donelson; Enos Hartman and J. T. Holleman Jr., of Atlanta. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Enos Hartman, of Atlanta; Misses Mary Elizabeth Polk and Billie Oliver, of Donelson, and Mrs. B. J. Edwards Jr., of Nashville. Miss Jane Ezell, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor.

The attendants were gowned alike in American beauty chiffon, made with draped circular folds of velvet over the arms. The skirts were made with short trains, and they wore velvet hats in American beauty shade. They carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

W. J. Ezell, of Donelson, gave his daughter in marriage, and they were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, William Nightengale Jr.

The beauty of the bride was enhanced by her gown of Chantilly lace, which has been worn by former brides in the Ezell family. The bodice was made with a round neckline, puffed elbow-length sleeves and a full, flounced skirt which graduated into a train. She wore a tulle veil made cap shape and trimmed with orange blossoms. Her flowers were gardenias and valley lilies.

After the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Ezell entertained at a reception at their home, Walnut Grove. Mr. and Mrs. Harris left for a wedding trip to New York. They will reside in Old Hickory.

Wesleyan Alumnae.

Atlanta Wesleyan Alumnae. Group No. V meets on Saturday at the home of Miss Mary Claire Powell, 947 Blue Ridge avenue, at 3 o'clock. Miss Martha Lamar will give a program on Mexico. Reservations may be made by calling Miss Powell at Hemlock 2015.

Former Atlantan Visiting Here

Mrs. Neil Sims Erbe, of New York, formerly of Atlanta, is numbered among prominent visitors in the city this month. She is visiting Mrs. Francis Ellis McKenzie at her home on Montclair drive and is being feted at a series of informal social affairs. Photograph by Thurston Hatcher.

Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the executive board of the Council of Jewish Women has been postponed from Thursday to Monday morning, November 18, 10:15 o'clock, at the Standard Club. The meeting will be followed by luncheon. Reservations can be made by calling Mrs. I. F. Sterne, Dearborn 2731, or Mrs. L. Van Stavoren, Hemlock 1007-J.

Atlantans Return
From New Orleans.

Among members of the Georgia State Dental Assistants' Association who have returned from the national convention held in New Orleans, La., are Miss Ruth Mills, of Atlanta, who represented Georgia as delegate; Miss Beatrice Whitaker, of Savannah, alternate for Georgia; Miss Annie Sue Jackson, of Macon, president of Sixth District Dental Assistants' Society; Miss Christine Sanders, of Rome, past president of the Seventh District Dental Assistants' Society; Misses Mamie Carnell and Phoebe Hayes, of Atlanta. Mrs. Marie Sillay Shaw, of Atlanta, was elected second vice president of the American Dental Assistants' Association at this meeting. Mrs. Louise Dismukes, of Birmingham, Ala., was elected president of the American Dental Assistants' Association, and Miss Lucile Black, of Birmingham, Ala., elected as fourth district trustee of the A. D. A. A. It was the largest delegation from Georgia to ever attend the national convention, and the national convention will be held next year in Oakland, Cal.

The meeting of the Fifth District Dental Assistants' Society will be held on November 19 at the Piedmont hotel, where delegates' report will be read. Members interested in this splendid report may call Mrs. Clara G. Herndon, president of the Fifth District Dental Assistants' Society, at Walnut 5404.

Made Man Feel Tired and Weak

Black-Draught is a purely vegetable medicine for the relief of constipation. It does its work to the satisfaction of thousands of men and women who use it when needed.

"I was strong and healthy until I had the flu," writes Mr. C. W. Whiddon, of Mandeville, La. "After this I was troubled with constipation that made me feel tired and sluggish that week. Black-Draught helped me quite a bit. I think it is good for constipation."

Remember to try Black-Draught next time you need the assistance it has so reliably brought to others.

FAT GIRLS GET THE GO-BY—SLIM GIRLS WIN MEN

Less Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises. There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right. All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace. Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out this way. Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same scientific method used by doctors. So why not lose fat the easy way—without starvation diets or back-breaking, bending and rolling exercises? Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get Marmola today from druggists.

PIMPLES

● Mere "beauty treatments" may cover up pimples but it takes the scientific action of Black and White Ointment to get rid of them. Large can only 25c. Use Black and White Skin Soap, too.

A slender slip of a Hungarian girl has come to this country with an orchestra of 15 male musicians. As soon as she arrived she gave an interview to the press describing her methods of managing her crew. She has gone into reverse on many times honored American customs of dealing with men and the girl who is figuring on having one man work for her had better fight shy of the advice of this European miss offers. She works 15 men and boasts that she keeps the upper hand by feeding them well, working them hard, discovering and preying upon their weaknesses and never, by flattery or sympathy, arousing the masculine ego. Jobs being scarce on both sides of the water, these 15 musicians have put themselves at the mercy of a merciless mistress. If she wants to keep her organization intact she had better take her boys home, for if they stay here long they will be injected with a serum, manufactured and distributed widely on this side. This serum inflates masculine ego on the theory that a woman can get the best out of man by making him feel that he is the master. To accomplish this she tells him that he is, she flatters him, sympathizes with him, caters to his masculine line vanity, appeals to his manly pride, leans heavily on his arm to make it stronger and when he is all blown up with a sense of importance, when he is flexing his muscles to show what a man he is, he is in a melting mood with the female who has contributed so much to his complacency. She may then appropriate him without further trouble, marry him, feed him well, continue to flatter him and, with wily ways and cunning tricks, get the best he has to offer from her out—including his love, loyalty and whole-hearted admiration of her.

Of course there are different standards for the woman who prefers the career of competition with men and the woman who prefers the career of marriage with one man. The orchestra pit and the concert platform have their points, so do the kitchen and the cradle. For the public career a woman must have an educated mind and for the private career she must have an educated heart.

The wheeling ways of wives and sweethearts are not suitable to the market place; nor are military measures effective in marriage. The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world, it is true, but the rule is one of influence not of tyranny. Doubtless there are Major Hoopies in the flesh as well as in the funny papers, men who had rather take orders from females than go to work. In these latter days there have also been many husbands who had to relinquish their male prerogatives because jobs folded up under them and they were dependent upon wage-earning wives. The men have been restive under the new regime, humiliated by their dependence and, with the exception of those whose pride has been done to death, they are biding their time until they can come again into their own.

Economic conditions have changed overnight. Women have stormed the business and professional world and found entrance at every door. In Grant Park Club Will Give Fish Fry.

On Friday at 4 o'clock Grant Park Woman's Club meets at the Grant Park Methodist church, at the corner of Boulevard, S. E., and Rosalia street. The president, Mrs. T. A. Smith, urges a full attendance.

After the meeting, a fish fry will be given in the dining room of the church. A fish supper will be served and the chef in charge is Bill Turner, who is noted for his barbecues and fish fries. Friends of members are cordially invited to attend and bring their families for supper. Tickets are for sale by club members or may be obtained at the door, and proceeds will be applied to the building fund.

To Keep Open House.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harris will keep open house at their home, 1240 Pasadena avenue, Sunday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, honoring their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Sattloff, of Columbus, whose marriage was solemnized November 10.

many instances they have beat the men at their own games. But this doesn't mean that human nature can change overnight. In any personal encounter a woman may have with a man, her femininity is her best weapon. It is by her gentleness that she makes him courageous; by her leaning on him that she makes him strong. Her expressed faith in his ability puts ambition in him and her approval of his efforts makes him redouble them. If she has the money and he has none, she can pop the whip and make him step lively, but his frame of mind toward her is much like the lion's toward his trainer; he moves because of fear; but look out when the whip popper's back is turned.

Girls, don't let the career women fool you. Giving orders to a whole orchestra of men is not nearly so much fun as wheeling one. Keeping 15 egos at zero point is not so satisfactory as standing by and seeing one swell under your loving touch. Discovering and preying upon the weak points of an army of men is not such good sport as devising ways and means to help one man overcome one weakness. A girl can't beat the kitchen and the cradle for a career unless she has a talent that the world is entitled to benefit by.

Give Your Skin New Beauty

Mercolized Wax brings to you a simple, natural way of beautifying the skin and keeping it young. The effectiveness of Mercolized Wax lies in the fact that it contains active ingredients that actually absorb the surface skin with all its discolorations and blemishes. This absorption process is carried on so gently that the action itself is not discernible. Gradually you will notice the new clearness and smoothness of your skin. Soon the entire colored outer layer of skin will have disappeared and the fresh under-skin which forms your new complexion appears soft, white and youthfully beautiful. Mercolized Wax brings out the hidden beauty in your skin.

Saxolite Astringent reduces wrinkles and other age-lines. Saxolite stimulates relaxed tissues and refines coarse pores. It is a refreshing, bracing skin tonic. Use it daily. Saxolite Astringent is made by dissolving one ounce Saxolite in one-half pint witch hazel. At all drug and dept. stores.

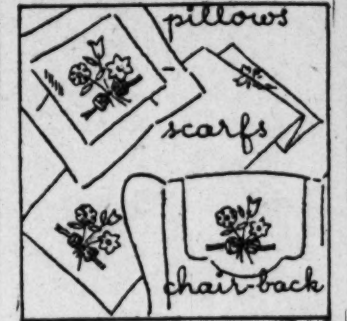

NANCY PAGE

Embroidered Flowers Decorate Many a Scarf and Table Runner.

By FLORENCE La GANKE.

Nancy had some left-over pieces of heavy satin and some good-sized pieces of a fine quality material resembling burles of monk's cloth. She was hunting some way of using them up.

She realized that she could not combine the two kinds of material very well but it did seem to her that there ought to be something which could be used on either one.

Take chain stitch embroidery for instance. Why couldn't she do some sort of bold and rather effective flower design on a piece of the material? Chain stitch does not take long to make and when the links are made of uniform size it is effective. Then too the work may be rows of stitchery put one beside the other until the entire flower space is filled. Leaves may be filled in the same fashion. This gives a resplendent embroidery that is closely allied or related to the Beauvais embroidery of Medieval times.

Suppose, thought Nancy, she used the satin for a small pillow top. Suppose she found a table surface that could use a plain scarf ornamented at the ends with the flower spray. That would give her two uses for the satin.

For the coarser woven material she chose monk's cloth or burles. She might have selected heavy round tared cotton cloth that is of good weight and that comes in delightful colors.

The embroidery may be done in silk, cotton, wool. The colors may be chosen to go with the room or the background material. The design of working size may be obtained by following the directions given at the end of this column. To

The edge may be finished with a crocheted picot. Or it may be hemmed or hemstitched. This embroidery is of a type that scarcely calls for a lace edging but if the lace is firm, compact and not too deep it might work very well.

There are No Safer Brakes Made

—than the Super-Safety Brakes on the 1936 Ford V-8—

No other car in America has the same basic design as the Ford V-8. And because of its unique design—the Ford car could use any type of braking system now in common use.

BUT, with the whole field to choose from, Ford stands by mechanically-operated Super-Safety brakes as safest for the Ford V-8.

This is the type braking system on many of America's costliest cars and most racing cars. And with its unique chassis design, Ford can use this system to better effect than any other automobile built today.

Then, Ford has more effective braking surface (186 square inches) than is found in any other low-priced car. And big, 12" alloy-iron drums with special cooling fins to give you maximum braking power under all road conditions.

All in all, no safer brakes are made than you get in the 1936 Ford V-8.

And right through this Ford V-8 is the same sound engineering for safety and comfort. Ford uses a one-piece, welded-steel body because it is safer and quieter. Ford gives you Safety Glass in every window at no extra cost because Ford believes it is the manufacturer's duty to provide for maximum safety as part of the car's sales price.

Drive the Ford V-8. See how it "holds the road" on curves—how dependably the brakes work on rough roads, steep hills, or anywhere else. Get in touch with—

FORD PERMANENT WHEELBASE

Radius rods [1] brace the front axle—like a pair of giant arms... Radius rods and Torque-tube [2] give triple bracing to the rear axle. This construction means that the front and rear axles of a Ford car are held always equidistant—always in perfect alignment. On this permanent wheelbase any braking system now in common use could be used. And only with this Ford-type wheelbase can mechanical, Super-Safety brakes be used to the fullest advantage.

FOUR INDEPENDENT BRAKE RODS

Note the four brake rods [3] of strong, tempered steel. These rods link the pressure of your foot on the pedal with the four big brake-drums on the wheels. They do this job positively, surely, under all road conditions. Note especially that no one Ford brake has to depend on the other three. Failure of one (practically impossible) would leave three perfectly-operating brakes. Tear out this chart and check with the car you are driving now.

Mrs. Charles Andrews, sister of the hostess, presided at the coffee table and poured coffee from a handsome silver service.

Mrs. Jones was crowned in a becoming model of orchid and silver satin with rhinestone clips and a matching rhinestone buckle. She wore a shoulder spray of orchids. Miss Hurt was attractively attired in a dinner gown of blue crepe with rhinestones around the high neck and sleeves, and her flowers were a cluster of orchids. Miss Merry wore a stunning model with a black velvet skirt with a tunic of red metal cloth. Her shoulder spray was also of orchids. Guests included members of the Debutante Club and their escorts.

POCKETS FLARE FROM THE HIP LINE THIS DESIGN. Pattern No. 1710-B.

The pockets on the model are shirred on in pie-shaped pieces, flared, with an upstanding frill at the top. They stand away from the dress, and the collar carries out the same idea. It is shirred on, too, with frills that extend away over the shoulders. The blouse is buttoned in front, and a triangle of the material is set in above the wide belt. A panel begins at the waistline and continues to the hem of the skirt, which is wide at the bottom. You'll like this model in soft crepe. Dusty pastels will be worn under dark coats for afternoon this winter, and they are a relief from the dark colors that are always so predominant in clothes worn during this season.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1710-B is designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34) requires 4 1/8 yards of 39-inch material. Price of pattern 15 cents.

WITH BILLION PAY ROLL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The federal government had 794,467 employees on its pay roll October 1—the largest number since war times.

The Civil Service Commission, reporting an increase of 10,434 permanent and 14,178 temporary workers during September, fixed the monthly pay roll for the executive branch of the government at $116,094,004, or $1,393,128.048 annually.

The commission said 622,802 were employed in regular departments, 39,406 in new agencies and 112,259 in emergency agencies.

Additional workers, not tabulated and consisting largely of Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees, brings the grand total, not including military and naval personnel, to 1,336,542.

XMAS LETTER CAUSES

CHILD'S DEATH BY FIRE

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Twelve-year-old Mary O'Connell's plea for a new doll for Christmas led to her death today.

The child wrote her aunt, May Chapman, in near-by Sewickley, Pa., "Aunt May, you promised to buy me doll when you began work again and I would love so much to have it."

She stood on tip-toes to place the unblotted letter, on the mantel, knocking another piece of paper into the grate fire.

A flaming fragment of this paper fired Mary's clothes. She beat her dress. Tried to rip it off, then ran screaming into the street.

A neighbor extinguished the flames, burning her own hands. The girl's parents were away.

Mary died a little later, the ink hardly dry on her request.

Miss Foster's action came several days after the Lynn school committee decided teachers as well as pupils must salute the flag and pledge allegiance to the state and national constitutions, under penalty of dismissal. Members of her sect claim they cannot pay allegiance to man-made symbols.

TO PERISH IN BLAZES IN 2 SOUTHERN STATES

Father and Mother Are Slightly Hurt Trying To Rescue Offspring.

ALEXIS, N. C., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Flames of undetermined origin licking through a two-story farm house here early today took the lives of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cunningham who themselves were slightly burned as they frantically sought to rescue their boys and girls.

Cunningham, former taxi driver of Gaston, 15 miles away, had moved here with his family last spring. He and his wife escaped through a rear door of the home they rented as a rooming house, reduced the frame structure to ashes.

The children, all of whom were sleeping in one lower-floor room except the youngest, were:

Robert, 19; Thomas, 15; Nellie, 15; Grace, 10; Louise, 7; Juanita, 4; Jack, 2, and Ruth, 1.

Ruth was sleeping with her parents when the fire was discovered about 1 a. m. The mother and father left her in bed and ran to warn the others, but the blaze swept through the home almost instantly, forcing the parents back from the house and cutting them off from the baby.

Burned, and realizing their fight against the flames was useless, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham barely saved themselves.

Coroner L. E. Kincaid said an inquest was unnecessary.

Later in the day, when the ruins cooled, the bodies of the children were recovered, but were so badly charred none could be distinguished from the other. Two bodies were found near the front door, indicating they had almost made good their escape when cut down by smoke and flame.

The blaze, which is thought to have originated in the upper portion of the house. The entire family was asleep downstairs.

180 SCHOOL CHILDREN ESCAPE BLAZING BUILDING

CLIFTON FORGE, Va., Nov. 13.—

(AP)—Heeding the pleas of teachers and frantic parents who begged many to jump, all the 180 pupils escaped from the burning Selma school today before the flaming walls collapsed, but eight of them lay on hospital cots tonight with broken bones and burns.

One, 10-year-old Ruth Van Buren, was seriously hurt, suffering internal injuries as well as a broken wrist when she jumped from a second-story window after the collapsing stairway cut off her exit.

All the children were on the first floor of the four-room building ran out and one classroom on the second floor was emptied of its pupils but fourth grade children in the other room were trapped when the blazing stairway fell.

Running to the windows, frightened and crying with their teacher, Miss Del Jackson, at their backs begging them to jump, the children hesitated. Scared at the distance between them and the ground but more frightened by the flames behind them, they hurled themselves from the building.

For some of them persons broke the fall but others hit with sickening thuds on the ground, fracturing ankles and wrists and hurting shoulders and heads.

Nurses from the Chesapeake & Ohio hospital and near-by Clifton Forge—placed the most seriously injured in automobiles and sent them to the hospital while children with lesser hurts were treated on the scene and sent home.

Meanwhile teachers assembled their

RUSSIAN SPY AND AID SENTENCED TO BE SHOT

Pair Seized With Anti-Soviet Propaganda in Their Possession.

KHABAROVSK, U. S. S. R., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Convicted of operating an espionage system out of Japanese-sponsored Manchoukuo, a white Russian major and his aid were sentenced to be shot by a far-western military court today.

Sentences for espionage usually are carried out within 24 hours.

The major, one Sorokin, and his assistant were seized in soviet territory last June with bombs, pistols, poison and anti-soviet propaganda in their possession. Authorities said both confessed they were under orders from "a certain foreign military mission" at Harbin, Manchoukuo, and that they were to obtain information about soviet border troops and the railroad to Vladivostok.

Sorokin was described by soviet officials as leader of a new system which for years had trained spies to be sent into Russia. His assistant, Babbin, also was a Russian.

A series of border clashes between soviet frontier guards and Japanese-Manchoukuo troops have resulted in several soviet protests to Tokyo.

SPECIAL SESSION SET IN MISSISSIPPI TODAY

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 13.—(AP)—

Governor Sennett Comer today called a joint session of the house and senate of the state legislature for tomorrow at 10 o'clock, and speculation was rife as to whether he would submit a proposed $40,000,000 road paving bill for consideration.

There were unconfirmed reports the governor would submit the road bill, which has been before him for consideration for two weeks, as well as a recommendation for an appropriation of $1,000,000 to pay overdue salaries of Mississippi school teachers.

ACTRESS, HUSBAND HELD ON CONTEMPT CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—(AP)—

Betty Boyd, screen actress, and her former husband, Charles Henry Over Jr., wealthy broker, were held in technical contempt today and fined $10 for entering into a property agreement before their divorce, allegedly against court instructions.

The actress was ordered by Court Commissioner Kauffman to surrender $10,000 in stocks, which she received, to two of Over's children by a former marriage.

TWO NEGRO CHILDREN ARE BURNED TO DEATH

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 13.—(AP)—

Two negro children were burned to death near here today when the home of their parents, John Henry Thompson and Maybell Thompson, was destroyed by fire.

The children, Annie Mae, 2, and Sammy, 8 months old, were alone in the house while their mother carried breakfast to her husband, who was working in a field.

NOTED CHINESE LEADER IS KILLED BY WOMAN

Former Powerful War Lord in China Assassinated by Woman.

TIENSIN, China, Nov. 14.—(Thursday)—(AP)—A praying woman assassin who chose a Buddhist temple to slay Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, often called Japan's choice for leadership of an independent north China, was in the hands of police today.

The 25-year-old, well-dressed slayer turned from an attitude of prayer as Sun entered the temple to attend a Buddhist meeting yesterday and emptied her revolver at the general. Then she calmly surrendered to police.

Investigators reported the woman was the daughter of the late General Sze Chung-pin, and that she blamed Sun for the execution of her father.

Former War Lord. Sun, once one of the most powerful war lords in China, has been a staunch opponent of the Nanking government. He was 50 years old and had been living in retirement in recent years.

The temple where the shooting took place is the Chinese section of the city. Sun had been governor of Chekiang province, then military governor of Fukien province, and finally was placed in control of the whole of the lower Yangtze area.

He declared war on the Canton government in 1926, contending the Can-

Key City Lost.

Various of his generals deserted, however, and he was beaten back by the southern armies, losing the key city of Hanchow on February 17, 1927.

For a time it was reported he might seek safety in Japan, but he reinforced his armies in the lower Yangtze valley and kept on fighting until June, 1928. Then he resigned command of the Shantung and Chihli armies and was replaced by General Chi Hsieh-yuan.

NANKING GOVERNMENT PROMISES TO CO-OPERATE

SHANGHAI, Nov. 14.—(Thursday)—(AP)—New Japanese insistence on complete choking out of anti-Japanese activities in China was met today with assurances of co-operation by the Nanking foreign office.

The assurances were given the secretary of the Japanese embassy in the capital who cited recent Shanghai incidents, including the slaying of a Japanese marine, to foreign office authorities.

Newspaper reports that the Japanese had demanded abolition of the Kuomintang (Japanese nationalist party) headquarters were not confirmed by the Japanese embassy, but sharp displeasure was voiced there over the party's asserted failure to halt anti-Japanese activities.

A Japanese committee visited H. E. Arnold, chairman of the municipal council of the International Settlement here, to request "effective and adequate" measures to allay uneasiness in Shanghai.

TOO MANY BEAUS

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

Sugar Friddle is the same given to a founding at the Lorton Orphanage in Virginia by Sophia Friddle, the superintendent. When Sugar is 15, "Mother" Friddle places her as a nursemaid for Mrs. Dick Le Masters' two-year-old boy Skeeter. She promises to wait for Johnny De Ville, an orphan just her age, until he becomes a great artist. Her room in the big Le Masters home is in the collar and her wages are $1 a week. She is found there by Dick's brother Carter when he returns from college where he is football captain, and he and Dick move her to the nursery, causing a family squabble. Sugar's first day off Mrs. Le Masters' 17-year-old sister, Zanie Lou Langworthy, outfits her in silk dress and white pump. Sugar's high heels hurt her feet and she accepts a lift from Scoop O'Reilly, New York newspaper man, who relieves his attempts at lovemaking but they become friends when she tells him about herself. Carter kisses her but apologizes when she goes to a dinner party at an inn where ends at Sid Patchen's house. Sid forces himself on Sugar while Scoop is shooting craps and is kissing her when Carter appears with Nancy Lou Jennings. After a scene with Nancy, Carter drives Sugar home. Sugar makes up with Johnny, who has found a job in a theater and has been angry because he had a date and would not see him the night of her day off. Scoop suddenly realizes he loves Sugar. He decides to go to Miss Friddle to try to find Mr. Sugar about her parentage. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XX.

As the newspaper man looked around he thought it was the last room in the world one would expect to find in an orphanage. Gay hand-woven rugs dotted the floor. Old-fashioned curtains waved at windows brilliantly lined with flower boxes. One end of the room was banked with house plants against tall French windows. The other was almost altogether taken up by an old fireplace, hand-made of rough hewn stone. The furniture was all in what even he knew was priceless antique. Early American.

He took it in at a glance when Miss Friddle held out her hand. "Sit down, young man." Mother Friddle planted herself in her favorite arm chair, her knitting in her lap. "Miss James announced you as Mr. O'Reilly from New York. What are you doing so far from home?" Scoop wriggled a little uncomfortably. He was there to decide the good Miss Friddle. And there was something about her that made him think the job might be a little difficult. The long, large featured face of the old lady had kindness and grace in every line. But by no means did she look stupid.

Mr. O'Reilly crossed his legs. "I'm here on rather a personal mission," he began in a crisp businesslike tone. "In the interest of some one else."

"Very good," Mother inclined her head. "You may speak freely. Does it concern one of my boys or girls?"

"Yes," Scoop sat back and prepared to plunge. "It does. One of whom you are very fond, I understand. The girl you had here for 17 years under the name of Sugar Friddle."

The old lady's hands tightened on the arms of her chair. Scoop watched her closely.

"Sugar?" she asked slowly. "What about Sugar? Is—there something wrong?"

"Not a thing," Scoop assured her, and she showed her relief. "She's quite all right. But my client, a wealthy woman whose name I am not at liberty to divulge at this moment, is much interested in her."

"She has seen her with Mrs. Le Masters' little boy, and talked with her. Miss Friddle seems like a brilliant girl, deserving of a better home than the one in which she is living as a servant. It's quite possible, if we can confirm what we have learned secretly concerning her ancestry, that something might be done which would mean a real future for the young lady."

It was several seconds before the old lady spoke. Scoop saw her stiffen. Her face turned chalk white. She wet her lips.

"I—don't quite understand you," she said then with an effort. "Are you meaning to infer that you know who Sugar Friddle's family were?"

Scoop evaded the question. "We seem to be on the trail, I thought perhaps you could help us. Naturally, my client would like to learn all you know concerning the girl."

Mother seemed to shrink in her chair. Scoop was alarmed at the pallor of her face. His first impulse was to get a glass of water. But on second thought he decided against it. There must be a good reason for her obvious alarm. It might, of course, be her great love for Sugar.

"Do you know anything about the ancestry of Miss Friddle?" he pressed on.

When mother answered her voice was hollow.

"There wasn't a thing about the baby to identify her when Dr. Slemph found her in the basket. All my life I have hoped some one would come to me with information. If you have any—give it to me, Mr. O'Reilly. I must know."

Scoop became the business man again.

"I came to you for information, Miss Friddle. My clue is only luck warm. All I can tell you is that we find the girl has very likely come from one of the better southern families. The information came about in a way that I cannot divulge without getting some one else into trouble."

Mother took up her knitting in an effort to pull herself together. Scoop could see her hands tremble.

"There is nothing I can tell you," she replied stiffly. "Nothing. You must believe me. And if you truly have the interest of Sugar Friddle at heart, you must make a sacred promise to me."

"I can't do that until I know what the promise is? What is it?"

"You must leave Sugar where she is. The old lady's face seemed to grow even whiter. She was gazing against the white of her hair. "Promise me you will wait."

"But why?" The newspaper man leaned forward in his chair. "She can't be happy working as a servant, earning only a dollar a week. If you love her why don't you want her to have advantages? A college education, pretty clothes, friends."

"I had hoped," Mother looked up, her eyes with tears. "I had hoped for your client might be Mrs. Le Masters. You are sure it is not I know."

"On my word of honor," Scoop assured her emphatically. "But why should you hope my client was Mrs. Le Masters? What particular reason have you for wishing the girl to stay where she is?"

"I feel she will be happier there." The old lady took a handkerchief from her pocket and wiped her eyes. Scoop decided to be honest in one thing.

"But she isn't. That I know. Mrs. Le Masters treats her worse than she treats the colored servants. When Miss Friddle went there to live she put her down in the ratty old cellar in a little room by herself. Through Mr. Le Masters' efforts, and much against his wife's wishes, she was finally allowed to sleep in the nursery. Mrs. Le Masters seem to hate her."

"No," Mother covered her eyes. "Don't say that. I'm sure she doesn't. No one could hate Sugar."

"I'm telling you the truth, Mrs. Le Masters makes the girl's life miserable. Sugar won't tell you because she doesn't want you to be unhappy."

The old maid did not try to hide her tears then. She cried softly while Scoop waited. Finally, he said soothingly:

"I'm sorry I had to tell you this, Miss Friddle. It is only in the interests of the girl."

"You don't know," Mother made a supreme effort to control her emotion,

"quite what this means to me. I feel I can't have my plans for her future upset at this time. This bad news puts me in a very difficult position."

"I'm sorry," Scoop got up. "Perhaps I had better come back at another time when you are feeling a little better. We'll just work on our own clues and give you a rest, since you assure me you know nothing about the child's parents."

For a moment Scoop thought Mother Friddle was going to break out in a fresh burst of tears. But she squared her shoulders and got up. Her knitting dropped to the floor. Scoop handed it back to her.

Mother Friddle put a hand on his arm. She seemed to have aged 10 years in a few minutes. Scoop's soft heart ached for her, and he felt suddenly ashamed of his deceit.

"Young man, she sought his eyes then, "you must make a promise to me. A sacred, solemn promise that must not be broken."

"Perhaps I might," Scoop relented with a smile. In fact, I think I'll be glad to alter all the unhappiness I've caused you."

"I knew you were a man of honor when I saw you. The old maid put her hands on his shoulders and looked into his eyes.

"Thank you," Scoop's eyes fell. "I'd like to be worthy of that."

"Then hold up your right hand," the old lady said solemnly.

Reluctantly Scoop raised his hand, wondering what he was letting himself in for, and why he was going to make a blind promise. Perhaps it was because Miss Friddle had seen the only mother Sugar had ever known—because he knew such a strong bond of love existed between them.

"Promise me," Mother did not take her eyes from his face. "that you will do nothing further concerning this matter for at least a month; that you will leave Sugar where she is, until then. You will hear from me at the end of that time. If, in the meantime, nothing has happened to change your plans, I will communicate with you anywhere you say."

"I promise," Scoop echoed solemnly.

Mother dropped wearily into her chair. "Thank you," she sighed feelingly. "Now I feel better. Do you believe in the hand of Providence, young man?"

"I do," Scoop nodded. "No doubt our religions are different. But our God is the same."

"Then leave this to him," Mother's eyes filled with tears again. "I was raised a Presbyterian myself. But I've grown strictly neutral here. Boys and girls of all faiths come to me. I teach them only to believe in God and obey the Golden Rule."

"I knew you were a wonderful woman," Scoop felt strangely like a small boy in the presence of the woman who had raised the girl he loved. "I've heard many wonderful things about you."

"I'm just a fussy old maid," Mother smiled then for the first time since he had shocked her. "And don't you let anyone else tell you otherwise."

TAKING MUSIC LESSONS DOES NOT INCREASE ONE'S MUSICAL CAPACITIES

Each person is born with all the musical capacity he will ever possess. There is nothing he can do that will either increase or decrease it; just as is the case with height and other traits. However, taking music lessons will make these musical capacities usable and capable of expression, just as boxing lessons make one's muscles more usable. A trait must be trained and then the abilities are realized; but no one can go any further in music than his inherited musical capacities will permit, just as a boxer can go no further than his inherited muscles will permit. Likewise, it does little good to inherit a capacity if we do not develop it into ability.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

THE ISLAND OF MALTA.

When Great Britain began to fear trouble with Italy a few months ago, warships and soldiers were sent to Malta, an island in the Mediterranean sea.

Malta is between Italy and Africa. You may find it on a map, not far south of Sicily. It is not very large, but it is an important stronghold and coaling station.

In ancient times the island was noted for its honey and its roses. There is a legend that it was the became the home of colonists from Greece.

Soldiers of Carthage drove out many, not all, of the Greeks. Later the Romans came to plunder and to settle. They were followed by vandals, Arabs, Normans and others.

The Spanish emperor obtained power over the island more than gave it to the Knights of St. John. These warriors were able to defend it against the Turks, but they gave it up to Napoleon when he stopped there on his way to Egypt with a fleet of warships.

Napoleon looked over the sights, and among them was "a hand in a golden glove," with a large diamond ring on one of the fingers. This hand was supposed to have belonged to John the Baptist. We are told that Napoleon came off the ring and carried it away—wearing it on one of his own fingers.

Before long there was a revolt against the French. Great Britain helped the natives, and the island became a part of the British empire.

The chief city of Malta is Valetta. It is the home of more than 80,000 people, about one-third of all those on the island.

The people are largely of Arab and Italian stock, but English is taught in the schools, and is spoken along with Italian and Arabic. Maltese lace is famous, and so are Maltese cats.

Passionate Love Letters From
N. Y. Girl to German
Importer Found.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Out of silence maintained by Vera Street, 31-year-old secretary, in the fatal shooting of Dr. Fritz Gebhardt, wealthy German importer, police tonight developed a motive of jealousy and "another woman."

Gripped by her love for the 42-year-old international trader, married and father of two children in Germany, the young woman shadowed Gebhardt to a west side hotel, where he allegedly met another woman, police said, and then faced him next day for a "showdown."

The second blonde mysteriously entered the picture in the course of police investigation as detectives translated from the German passionate love letters exchanged by Miss Stretz and Dr. Gebhardt.

"I'm feverish—I'm mad about you," she wrote Gebhardt, abroad.

Police said a checkup of hotel records showed that a "Dr. F. Gebhardt, of Clitham, N. J., registered at a hotel Sunday night. A Miss Thompson, of Pelham Manor, N. Y., police said, also registered, but hotel employees said no such name appeared on the hotel roster. Police obtained their information from an undisclosed source.

Miss Stretz cloaked with reserve any motives she may have had for the slaying.

Elaborate Premiere at Fox Opens Romantic 'So Red the Rose' Tonight

"So Red the Rose," filmization of Stark Young's famous story of the Old South, will have its world premiere at the Lucas & Jenkins Fox theater tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

One of the most attractive features of this premiere will be a prologue to the picture with prominent Atlanta stage stars. You will be waited back to the romantic past on the aroma of delicious mint julep. There will be several surprises that even Hollywood herself has never thought of. The theater will be floodlighted from all sides and Confederate decorations will adorn the entire front. The entire staff of the Fox will be in colorful costumes as worn in the days of the "Old South." The interior of the Fox will be transformed to the ante-bellum days, with attractive sidebars in crinoline, from Washington Seminary, acting as ushers. The Georgia Military Academy band will be there playing all the old southern

EX-OFFICIAL OF STATE, THOMAS R. GRESS, DIES

Former Assistant Attorney General Succumbs at Home After Short Illness.

Thomas Roland Gress, retired attorney and for many years assistant state attorney-general, died about 10 o'clock last night at his home, Roxboro road, following a short illness. He was 65 years old.

Mr. Gress was a native of Kirkwood, Ga., and was formerly associated with the Georgia railroad at Savannah, in their law department. Until his retirement in 1932, he served many years as assistant state attorney-general. He was a member of the Georgia bar, and a member of the Georgia bar association. He is survived by a brother, S. E. Gress, a sister, Mrs. M. T. Terrell, a nephew, Thomas Terrell, and several cousins.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at his home, with Dr. Louis D. Newton officiating. Burial will be in Sylvester cemetery.

EYE DOCTOR SWINDLERS SOUGHT IN LOUISIANA

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 13.—(P)—The State Bureau of Criminal Identification today asked Louisiana peace officers to watch for two men it described as the meanest kind of swindlers, preying upon the aged in rural areas.

The men, described as about 40 and stout, were alleged to have victimized elderly persons by posing as eye specialists, dropping blinding liquid in their eyes and taking all their money. Sheriff Paul Murphy, of Union parish, is reported that one aged woman was fleeced out of $470 and Sheriff R. P. Easterly of Livingston, that an aged woman in his parish likewise lost her money.
